FIGHT NEAR MUKDEN

ARMIES OF KUROPATKIN AND KUROKI ENGAGED IN DESPERATE BATTLE.

RETIRING TO TIELING PASS

BELIEVED THAT THE MAIN RUSSIAN ARMY WILL MAKE A STAND THERE.

RUSSIAN LOSS VERY HEAVY

TEN THOUSAND MEN CAPTURED AND FORTY THOUSAND FALL IN THE FIGHTING.

A great battle is now raging before Mukden. The First and Seventeenth Russian army corps are engaged in trying to hold back the forces of General Kuroki.

Evidently the Japanese are making a desperate effort to isolate the main Russian army before it can reach Tieling pass, thirty miles north of Mukden. Once through this narrow and dangerous defile, the Russians could, by the sacrifice of a small force, hold the advancing hordes of the Japanese in check until the main Russian army had obtained a good lead on the long retreat to Harbin, about 300 miles farther north.

It is possible that Kuropatkin, in case his forces repulse those of Kuroki near Mukden, will make a stand at Tieling pass, where all conditions are favorable for a successful defense. But it is a question whether his supplies would allow him to make such a stand.

Kuropatkin, who is at Mukden, has taken precautions to prevent the seizure of Tieling pass by the Japanese, and all the Russian guns, supplies and men who have reached Mukden have continued on to the north, showing that Kuropatkin will not make a stand at Mukden itself unless circumstances compel an engagement there.

From Tokio comes the report that 10,000 Russians have been captured since the Japanese crossed the Taitse river and estimating the total Russian losses since the retreat from Liaoyang began at fully 50,000 men, or about one-fourth of Kuropatkin's estimated army.

The whole country around Mukden is aflame with the wildest and most contradictory rumors, but the most alarming statement is that the Chinese population is growing more hostile to the Russians as the Japanese advance.

The Japanese are still harassing the Russian rear guard and with Kuroki's forces crashing against the flank of the fleeing Russians, the prelude to the most colossal conflict of the war is now being waged near Mukden. The issue of the campaign itself will probably be decided at Tieling.

The Japanese are said to have landed several fresh divisions at Possiet bay, just south of Vladivostok. This force may isolate that place and a portion of it march along the railroad to Harbin or cut off Kuropatkin's retreat to that place.

GREAT BATTLE IS ON

KUROKI'S TROOPS ATTACK RUSSIAN FORCES AT THE GATES OF MUKDEN.

Paris, Sept. 8.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Echo de Paris says:

"A great battle is going on before Mukden. The First and Seventeenth corps are engaged against General Kuroki.

"General Kuropatkin, with the bulk of his troops, is moving toward Tieling."

WHOLE COUNTRY IS AFLAME.

Wild and Contradictory Rumors Thick at Mukden.

Mukden, Sept. 8.—The whole country is aflame with the wildest and most contradictory rumors.

The principal interest in the situation is in the fact that the Chinese population is turning more against Russia with the advance of the Japanese army.

Mukden itself is overcrowded and it is almost impossible to get food or a place to sleep.

Everywhere there is the greatest uproar and confusion and many families are leaving in the direction of Harbin. The soldiers, however, are not at all disheartened at the result of the fight, and they say that the Japanese losses are so tremendous as to seriously weaken them. They declare that they have made the Japanese pay infinitely more for Liaoyang than it was worth.

TOOK IMPORTANT POSITIONS.

Japs Had Port Arthur Russians in Desperate Plight.

Chefoo, Sept. 8.—It is now apparent that the heavy fighting reported by numerous Chinese refugees as having occurred before Port Arthur between Aug. 27 and 31, occurred chiefly on the first two days mentioned, the Japanese thereafter directing their efforts almost entirely to holding the positions they had obtained. That these positions were of considerable importance is evidenced by the fact that the Russians risked the lives of valuable men in open fight in their efforts to dislodge the Japanese from them. As has been previously reported, the Japanese troops retired from nearly all points on the night of Aug. 31.

NOT DISPLAYING ANXIETY.

Russian General Staff Thinks Kuropatkin's Army Is Safe.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 8.—The general staff is not displaying great anxiety over the alarmist reports that General Kuropatkin is in serious danger of being cut off, but if they had any information from the front on Wednesday they have not revealed it. The members also decline to say, even if they know, whether General Kuropatkin purposes taking his army north of Mukden.

An officer of the general staff said last night:

"I believe it is safe to say that General Kuropatkin's army is now out of danger. Our advice since Monday indicate that the fighting is of an insignificant character, and I do not believe that the tired Japanese troops are capable of seriously threatening the line of retreat. The greatest difficulty our army is now having to contend with is the terrible roads, owing to the rain of Monday and Tuesday.

"Our information is that the bulk of the baggage has already passed through Mukden. This is the usual procedure in the case of any retreat."

Kuropatkin's movement, after all, must depend chiefly on the tactics of the Japanese, with whom lies the initiative. If the Japanese continue to press north in the hope of cutting off the Russians and bringing them to bay, then Kuropatkin will be obliged to move north to circumvent them. But both armies already are terribly exhausted and if they again come to battle, the result will depend largely on which of them is able to throw the most fresh reserves into the fight.

If there is a race northward it is apparent that the greatest danger will come at the narrow defile of Tieling, thirty miles north of Mukden, but the authorities seem fairly well satisfied with the situation and are confident of its ultimate outcome.

VERY HEAVY LOSSES

TEN THOUSAND RUSSIANS ARE CAPTURED AND FORTY THOUSAND SLAIN.

Tokio, Sept. 8.—More than 10,000 Russian prisoners have been taken since the crossing of the Taitse river, and it is expected that the retreat from Liaoyang will show a Russian loss of more than 50,000.

PROBLEM NOT YET SOLVED.

Arrival at Mukden Does Not Mean Safety for Kuropatkin.

London, Sept. 8.—The trend of the view of the morning newspapers on the war in the far East is that General Kuropatkin's arrival at Mukden does not solve the problem of his retreat. "Where will Kuropatkin stop?" is what is asked.

The Daily Telegraph holds that the latest developments are merely the prelude to the "colossal conflict looming in the future."

Most of the English critics look for a repetition of the Liaoyang battle at Tieling or in that neighborhood.

Scarcely any London newspapers believe that Kuropatkin has taken the bulk of his forces with him to Mukden. It is pointed out that neither side is likely to risk the desecration of the imperial tombs by a pitched battle at Mukden. The cradle of the Manchurian dynasty and the Mecca of all good Manchus, it is thought, will likely be respected from motives of policy by both the belligerents, though a comparatively pacific occupation of it by the Japanese is forecasted to occur within a few days.

The Morning Post, though confessedly unable to sum up the situation owing to the absence of Japanese official reports, thinks that General Kuroki may have crossed the Hun river to the east of Mukden.

Other critics prophesy that the Japanese will occupy Mukden or Tieling as a winter base.

The Daily Telegraph's Seoul correspondent says there is an unconfirmed report there that the Japanese have landed several fresh divisions of troops in the vicinity of Possiet bay, south of Vladivostok, cutting off the retreat of the Russians in Northeastern Korea.

IOWA BANKER INDICTED.

Day Dunning of Mount Air Accused of Fraudulent Banking.

Des Moines, Sept. 8.—Day Dunning, president of the defunct Citizens' bank at Mount Air, Ia., was Wednesday indicted for fraudulent banking on five counts. The failure of his bank last spring involved about $200,000 loss and seriously crippled Mount Air business interests.

Death List Growing.

Macon, Mo., Sept. 8.—The death list of the Washburn wreck near Warrenton, Mo., Tuesday, has reached a total of thirteen. Several others are still in a precarious condition.

FATAL TRAIN WRECK

VICTIMS UNDER WRECKAGE

DEATH LIST MAY BE INCREASED WHEN ALL THE DEBRIS IS CLEARED AWAY.

Princeton, Ill., Sept. 8.—At least three persons were killed and thirty were injured last night when a fast passenger train on the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad was wrecked at Tiskilawa.

The dead are a man supposed to be Donaldson of Chicago, an unidentified Italian and an unidentified man, about thirty-five years old, all passengers.

The passenger train ran into the rear end of a freight train that had broken in two. The engineer escaped injury but the fireman was severely hurt.

Half a dozen passenger cars were wrecked and the passengers thrown in every direction, eight landing in a corn field at one side of the track.

Many of the injured have been taken to Tiskilawa and others to the hospital at La Salle.

Physicians and nurses have been summoned from many of the surrounding towns. Several persons were pinned in the wreckage and more may be dead.

The wreck was caused by a peculiar accident. Shortly before the time for the southwestbound passenger to arrive at Tiskilawa an eastbound freight train broke in two while running at a high rate of speed. The two sections almost immediately came together again with great force, piling up several boxcars on the westbound track, almost directly in front of the fast passenger train.

The engineer of the latter was unable to stop and the passenger train hit the wreckage while going at an estimated speed of between fifty and sixty miles an hour.

The baggage car, smoker and forward chair cars were converted into kindling wood. The three sleeping cars remained on the track and the occupants, beyond a severe shaking, were unhurt.

When it was seen that the wreck could not be prevented, the engineer and fireman jumped, the latter sustaining severe injuries by the fall. Many passengers were buried beneath the wreckage of the smoker and chair cars and it was some time before assistance arrived on the scene. There are twelve seriously injured passengers at the hotel at Tiskilawa.

THE RESULT IN VERMONT.

Republican Plurality Shows a Slight Increase.

White River Junction, Vt., Sept. 8.—With only two small towns missing, a Republican plurality of 31,509 in Tuesday's election is believed to be within a few votes of the correct figures. Four years ago it was 31,312.

The total vote for governor, without the two towns, is: Bell (Rep.), 47,991; Porter (Dem.), 16,492; Republican plurality, 31,499. The missing towns gave a Republican plurality last year of 68.

A tabulation of the returns compared with those of 1900 shows that the Republicans gained in eight counties an aggregate of 1,432, making a net Republican loss of 444.

On the other hand the Democrats gained in three counties an aggregate of 212 votes, losing in the other eleven an aggregate of 1,241, making a net Democratic loss of 1,029.

The next legislature will be more completely controlled by the Republicans than for many years. The senate will be solidly Republican, where last year there were five Democrats. Returns for the house show 186 Republicans, 39 Democrats, 3 Independents and 2 Citizens' members. Last year the Democrats had 50 members in the house.

THOMAS TAGGART EXPLAINS.

Result in Vermont as Viewed by Democratic Chairman.

New York, Sept. 8.—The following statement concerning the result in Vermont was issued by Chairman Thomas Taggart of the Democratic national committee:

"The result in Vermont is not surprising in view of the unparalleled efforts made by the Republicans and the quiet campaign conducted by the Democrats. The administration concentrated all its forces and resources upon that state. Moreover, it was proclaimed throughout the state that the president had promised the candidate for governor to attend his inauguration in case he obtained a majority of 40,000.

"In view of these efforts, never made before by any party in a September election, it is remarkable that the administration did not succeed in increasing the Republican majority."

KILLS WIFE AND HIMSELF.

Chicago Man's Method of Evading Payment of Alimony.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Rather than pay his wife, from whom he had been separated, $7 a week, as ordered by the court, Joseph Regnet, a porter, last night shot and killed her and then committed suicide.

GRANT SPLITS BELL'S ARMY.

Left Wing of the Latter's Force is Cut in Two.

Gainesville, Va., Sept. 8.—The first maneuver problem closed at noon Wednesday with General Grant's force pushed through the left wing of General Bell's army. This put the blue force within two miles of Thoroughfare Gap, the objective point. However, General Bell had Smith's brigade on the right and Barry's brigade on the left of this breach in his line and Colonel Wagner, chief umpire, draws no conclusion as to what might happen had not hostilities ceased under the command previously issued by General Corbin to cease hostilities at noon so that the tired troops might be given relief. Previous to this attack on the part of the blue force there had been severe fighting on the line to which General Bell had fallen back during the night. This line, the Antioch road, was within two miles of the western limit of the maneuver zone and extended the five miles of the width of the zone. While General Bell was falling back to the new line General Grant, between midnight and daylight, concentrated his forces for an attack on the brown line. He withdrew all of his cavalry from the southern portion of his line, their position on the first day, and threw two full brigades and sixteen guns to the point indicated. His artillery was so well placed that it had unobstructed play for an hour on the brown line. The effect of this fire was not taken into account by a decision rendered by the umpire on the field early in the battle, when the blue force was required to fall back, but was taken into account later and credit given accordingly.

Every spectacular feature of a battle in full progress was produced in the maneuvers and the field was viewed from near and far by many spectators.

Some of the militia troops ate their two days' rations the first day and went hungry Wednesday.

Omaha Strikers Return to Work.

Omaha, Sept. 8.—Two hundred packinghouse strikers returned to work Wednesday as a result of the vote taken Tuesday on the question of discontinuing the strike.

EDITORS AT BANQUET

DEMOCRATIC SCRIBES TALK POLITICS AT A DINNER IN NEW YORK CITY.

New York, Sept. 8.—Nearly 500 Democratic editors from all parts of the United States met at a banquet at the Waldorf Astoria last night, the occasion being a national conference of Democratic editors which was called at the instance of the Democratic national committee.

The toast list included several of the best known Democratic editors in the country, and all of them responded to toasts on political subjects.

Colonel Sylvanus E. Johnson, Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer, and a former president of the Gridiron club, was the toastmaster.

A large orchestra furnished music during the dinner. When "Dixie" was played, the diners, many of whom were from the South, jumped to their feet, and the Rebel yell was given several times. Enthusiasm was at the highest pitch when the selection was enclosed.

Colonel Johnson, in a brief speech, introduced Colonel Henry Waterson, who responded to the toast "The Issue and the Outlook."

Herman Ridder followed Mr. Waterson.

A letter from Joseph Pulitzer, written from Bar Harbor, Me., to Chairman Daniels, in which the writer said that physical infirmities prevented his being present, was read.

Clark Howell, editor of the Atlanta Constitution, spoke to the toast, "Democratic Success the Guarantee of National Unity."

John B. Stoll, editor of the South Bend (Ind.) Times, and Andrew McLean, editor of the Brooklyn Eagle, also spoke.

PARKER TO MAKE A SPEECH.

Democratic Candidate Will Address Visiting Editors.

Esopus, N. Y., Sept. 8.—Alton B. Parker will make his first speech since his formal acceptance of the Democratic nomination at Rosemont today in the presence of the visiting editors of Democratic newspapers. It will take the form of a reply to an address of greeting to be made by Charles W. Knapp of St. Louis.

The editors are expected to arrive from New York before noon.

Judge Parker will speak from the veranda at Rosemont and with the exception of the brief speeches there will be nothing formal about the occasion.

MOB LYNCHES A NEGRO.

Smokes Him Out of the Jail and Then Hangs Him.

Huntsville, Ala., Sept. 8.—After setting fire to the jail and smoking out the prisoner while the fire department was held at bay with guns and the sheriff, his deputies and the soldiers were outwitted, a mob of 2,000 persons last night lynched Horace Maples, a negro, accused of murdering John Waldrop. Maples was hanged on a tree on the courthouse lawn.

This action of the mob was taken notwithstanding strong protests made by Solicitor Erle Pettus and H. Wallace, Jr., in stirring speeches in which law and order were pleaded.

VOTE TO REMAIN OUT

THE STRIKING PACKINGHOUSE EMPLOYEES WILL NOT RETURN TO WORK.

LEADERS FORMULATE PLANS

TRYING TO DECIDE UPON BEST METHOD OF MAKING STRIKE EFFECTIVE.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Having voted to continue the stockyards struggle until better terms can be secured, the strike leaders now are in a quandary as to what the next move shall be. When the result of the vote of the men defeating the proposal to return to work was announced Wednesday it was said by union officials that a second ballot would be ordered at once. Shortly after announcement was made however, the plan was abandoned and efforts were begun to secure another conference with the packers. In this the strikers were unsuccessful and then a second announcement was made that the order issued last week, placing all meat on the unfair list would go into effect last night. While arrangements were making to put this order into effect it was discovered by some of the leaders that the allied trades conference board would have to give their consent to the order before it could be enforced and that it would be impossible to put the manifesto into effect last night, as the allied trades conference board would not be able to arrange for a meeting of its members until today. It was then said that the central organization would meet today to consider the question.

GEOGRAPHERS WILL MEET.

Eighth International Congress to Be Held in Washington.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The eighth international geographical congress will convene here today and will continue through Saturday. It will be the first gathering, either national or international, of the geographers of the United States or the Western hemisphere, and is regarded as a tribute of recognition by the world of the wonderful advance made during the past decade of the science of geography in North America. Following the precedent of other countries where congresses have been held, the honorary president of the eighth international congress will be President Theodore Roosevelt, who has taken a personal interest in the meeting and to whom many of the eminent men attending the congress are well known. Commander Robert E. Peary, the Arctic explorer, is the actual president and will preside at all the general sessions. C. D. Walcott, director of the geological survey, will represent President Roosevelt and make the formal address of welcome in his name.

LOUISVILLE TEAM IS FIRST.

Kentuckians Capture Highest Honors in Templars Drill.

San Francisco, Sept. 8.—The competition drill between four well drilled teams of Knights Templars was Wednesday's feature of the triennial conclave. Louisville commandery No. 1 won the first prize, St. Bernard, Chicago, was second; Ivanhoe, Milwaukee, third; Malta, Binghamton, N. Y., fourth.

Fully 25,000 persons witnessed the marching and counter-marching of the competing teams.

The grand encampment held a forenoon and an afternoon session, disposing of much business. There were also excursions to points of interest.

At night a banquet was given to the grand encampment and the representatives from Great Britain, followed by concerts and receptions at many headquarters. Eminent Grand Master Stoddard and the Earl of Euston were guests of honor at a reception given by the grand commandery of Ohio.

TO RUN THE CAMPAIGN.

Frank A. Day Chairman of Minnesota Democrats.

St. Paul, Sept. 8.—Frank A. Day of Fairmont was named chairman and M. F. Kain of St. Paul secretary of the state Democratic organization at a meeting of the central committee at the Merchants hotel during the day.

The executive committee was named by adding one member from each district to the committee-at-large selected at the state convention in Minneapolis Tuesday of last week.

L. A. Rosing tendered the declaration of John Lind to be a candidate for the supreme bench and his refusal to run was accepted without debate. Former Congressman O. M. Hall of Red Wing was named by the committee to fill the vacancy on the ticket caused by the declination of John Lind to make the canvass for the supreme bench.

NEW HAMPSHIRE DEMOCRATS.

Nominate Henry F. Hollis of Concord for Governor.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 8.—For a second time the Democrats of New Hampshire Wednesday nominated Henry F. Hollis of Concord to be their candidate for governor. The state convention was held here and plans made at a caucus Tuesday night were fully carried out.

occurred before Port Arthur between Aug. 27 and 31, occurred chiefly on the first two days mentioned, the Japanese thereafter directing their efforts almost entirely to holding the positions they had obtained. That these positions were of considerable importance is evidenced by the fact that the Russians risked the lives of valuable men in open fight in their efforts to dislodge the Japanese from them. As has been previously reported, the Japanese troops retired from nearly all points on the night of Aug. 31.

NOT DISPLAYING ANXIETY.

Russian General Staff Thinks Kuropatkin's Army Is Safe.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 8.—The general staff is not displaying great anxiety over the alarmist reports that General Kuropatkin is in serious danger of being cut off, but if they had any information from the front on Wednesday they have not revealed it. The members also decline to say, even if they know, whether General Kuropatkin purposes taking his army north of Mukden.

An officer of the general staff said last night:

"I believe it is safe to say that General Kuropatkin's army is now out of danger. Our advice since Monday indicate that the fighting is of an insignificant character, and I do not believe that the tired Japanese troops are capable of seriously threatening the line of retreat. The greatest difficulty our army is now having to contend with is the terrible roads, owing to the rain of Monday and Tuesday.

"Our information is that the bulk of the baggage has already passed through Mukden. This is the usual procedure in the case of any retreat."

Kuropatkin's movement, after all, must depend chiefly on the tactics of the Japanese, with whom lies the initiative. If the Japanese continue to press north in the hope of cutting off the Russians and bringing them to bay, then Kuropatkin will be obliged to move north to circumvent them. But both armies already are terribly exhausted and if they again come to battle, the result will depend largely on which of them is able to throw the most fresh reserves into the fight.

If there is a race northward it is apparent that the greatest danger will come at the narrow defile of Tieling, thirty miles north of Mukden, but the authorities seem fairly well satisfied with the situation and are confident of its ultimate outcome.

TEN THOUSAND RUSSIANS ARE CAPTURED AND FORTY THOUSAND SLAIN.

Tokio, Sept. 8.—More than 10,000 Russian prisoners have been taken since the crossing of the Taitse river, and it is expected that the retreat from Liaoyang will show a Russian loss of more than 50,000.

PROBLEM NOT YET SOLVED.

Arrival at Mukden Does Not Mean Safety for Kuropatkin.

London, Sept. 8.—The trend of the view of the morning newspapers on the war in the far East is that General Kuropatkin's arrival at Mukden does not solve the problem of his retreat. "Where will Kuropatkin stop?" is what is asked.

The Daily Telegraph holds that the latest developments are merely the prelude to the "colossal conflict looming in the future."

Most of the English critics look for a repetition of the Liaoyang battle at Tieling or in that neighborhood.

Scarcely any London newspapers believe that Kuropatkin has taken the bulk of his forces with him to Mukden. It is pointed out that neither side is likely to risk the desecration of the imperial tombs by a pitched battle at Mukden. The cradle of the Manchu dynasty and the Mecca of all good Manchus, it is thought, will likely be respected from motives of policy by both the belligerents, though a comparatively pacific occupation of it by the Japanese is forecasted to occur within a few days.

The Morning Post, though confessedly unable to sum up the situation owing to the absence of Japanese official reports, thinks that General Kuroki may have crossed the Hun river to the east of Mukden.

Other critics prophesy that the Japanese will occupy Mukden or Tieling as a winter base.

The Daily Telegraph's Seoul correspondent says there is an unconfirmed report there that the Japanese have landed several fresh divisions of troops in the vicinity of Possiet bay, south of Vladivostok, cutting off the retreat of the Russians in Northeastern Korea.

IOWA BANKER INDICTED.

Day Dunning of Mount Ayr Accused of Fraudulent Banking.

Des Moines, Sept. 8.—Day Dunning, president of the defunct Citizens' bank at Mount Ayr, Ia., was Wednesday indicted for fraudulent banking on five counts. The failure of his bank last spring involved about $200,000 loss and seriously crippled Mount Ayr business interests.

FATAL TRAIN WRECK

VICTIMS UNDER WRECKAGE

DEATH LIST MAY BE INCREASED WHEN ALL THE DEBRIS IS CLEARED AWAY.

Princeton, Ill., Sept. 8.—At least three persons were killed and thirty were injured last night when a fast passenger train on the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad was wrecked at Tiskilawa.

The dead are a man supposed to be Donaldson of Chicago, an unidentified Italian and an unidentified man, about thirty-five years old, all passengers.

The passenger train ran into the rear end of a freight train that had broken in two. The engineer escaped injury but the fireman was severely hurt.

Half a dozen passenger cars were wrecked and the passengers thrown in every direction, eight landing in a corn field at one side of the track.

Many of the injured have been taken to Tiskilawa and others to the hospital at La Salle.

Physicians and nurses have been summoned from many of the surrounding towns. Several persons were pinioned in the wreckage and more may be dead.

The wreck was caused by a peculiar accident. Shortly before the time for the southwestbound passenger to arrive at Tiskilawa an eastbound freight train broke in two while running at a high rate of speed. The two sections almost immediately came together again with great force, piling up several boxcars on the westbound track, almost directly in front of the fast passenger train. The engineer of the latter was unable to stop and the passenger train hit the wreckage while going at an estimated speed of between fifty and sixty miles an hour.

The baggage car, smoker and forward chair cars were converted into kindling owd. The three sleeping cars remained on the track and the occupants, beyond a severe shaking, were unhurt.

When it was seen that the wreck could not be prevented, the engineer and fireman jumped, the latter sustaining severe injuries by the fall. Many passengers were buried beneath the wreckage of the smoker and chair cars and it was some time before assistance arrived on the scene. There are twelve seriously injured passengers at the hotel at Tiskilawa.

THE RESULT IN VERMONT.

Republican Plurality Shows a Slight Increase.

White River Junction, Vt., Sept. 8.—With only two small towns missing, a Republican plurality of 31,500 in Tuesday's election is believed to be within a few votes of the correct figures. Four years ago it was 31,312.

The total vote for governor, without the two towns, is: Bell (Rep.), 47,991; Porter (Dem.), 16,492; Republican plurality, 31,499. The missing towns gave a Republican plurality last year of 68.

A tabulation of the returns compared with those of 1900 shows that the Republicans gained in eight counties an aggregate of 1,432, making a net Republican loss of 444.

On the other hand the Democrats gained in three counties an aggregate of 212 votes, losing in the other eleven an aggregate of 1,241, making a net Democratic loss of 1,029.

The next legislature will be more completely controlled by the Republicans than for many years. The senate will be solidly Republican, where last year there were five Democrats. Returns for the house show 186 Republicans, 39 Democrats, 3 independents and 2 Citizens' members. Last year the Democrats had 50 members in the house.

THOMAS TAGGART EXPLAINS.

Result in Vermont as Viewed by Democratic Chairman.

New York, Sept. 8.—The following statement concerning the result in Vermont was issued by Chairman Thomas Taggart of the Democratic national committee:

"The result in Vermont is not surprising in view of the unparalleled efforts made by the Republicans and the quiet campaign conducted by the Democrats. The administration concentrated all its forces and resources upon that state. Moreover, it was proclaimed throughout the state that the president had promised the candidate for governor to attend his inauguration in case he obtained a majority of 40,000.

"In view of these efforts, never made before by any party in a September election, it is remarkable that the administration did not succeed in increasing the Republican majority."

KILLS WIFE AND HIMSELF.

Chicago Man's Method of Evading Payment of Alimony.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Rather than pay his wife, from whom he had been separated, $7 a week, as ordered by the court, Joseph Regnet, a porter, last night shot and killed her and then committed suicide.

GRANT SPLITS BELL'S ARMY.

Left Wing of the Latter's Force is Cut in Two.

Gainesville, Va., Sept. 8.—The first maneuver problem closed at noon Wednesday with General Grant's force pushed through the left wing of General Bell's army. This put the blue force within two miles of Thoroughfare Gap, the objective point. However, General Bell had Smith's brigade on the right and Barry's brigade on the left of this breach in his line and Colonel Wagner, chief umpire, draws no conclusion as to what might happen had not hostilities ceased under the command previously issued by General Corbin to cease hostilities at noon so that the tired troops might be given relief. Previous to this attack on the part of the blue force there had been severe fighting on the line to which General Bell had fallen back during the night. This line, the Antioch road, was within two miles of the western limit of the maneuver zone and extended the five miles of the width of the zone. While General Bell was falling back to the new line General Grant, between midnight and daylight, concentrated his forces for an attack on the brown line. He withdrew all of his cavalry from the southern portion of his line, their position on the first day, and threw two full brigades and sixteen guns to the point indicated. His artillery was so well placed that it had unobstructed play for an hour on the brown line. The effect of this fire was not taken into account by a decision rendered by the umpire on the field early in the battle, when the blue force was required to fall back, but was taken into account later and credit given accordingly.

Every spectacular feature of a battle in full progress was produced in the maneuvers and the field was viewed from near and far by many spectators.

Some of the militia troops ate their two days' rations the first day and went hungry Wednesday.

Omaha Strikers Return to Work.

Omaha, Sept. 8.—Two hundred packinghouse strikers returned to work Wednesday as a result of the vote taken Tuesday on the question of discontinuing the strike.

EDITORS AT BANQUET

DEMOCRATIC SCRIBES TALK POLITICS AT A DINNER IN NEW YORK CITY.

New York, Sept. 8.—Nearly 500 Democratic editors from all parts of the United States met at a banquet at the Waldorf-Astoria last night, the occasion being a national conference of Democratic editors which was called at the instance of the Democratic national committee.

The toast list included several of the best known Democratic editors in the country, and all of them responded to toasts on political subjects.

Colonel Sylvanus E. Johnson, Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer, and a former president of the Gridiron club, was the toastmaster.

A large orchestra furnished music during the dinner. When "Dixie" was played, the diners, many of whom were from the South, jumped to their feet, and the Rebel yell was given several times. Enthusiasm was at the highest pitch when the selection was endorsed.

Colonel Johnson, in a brief speech, introduced Colonel Henry Watterson, who responded to the toast "The Issue and the Outlook."

Herman Ridder followed Mr. Watterson.

A letter from Joseph Pulitzer, written from Bar Harbor, Me., to Chairman Daniels, in which the writer said that physical infirmities prevented his being present, was read.

Clark Howell, editor of the Atlanta Constitution, spoke to the toast, "Democratic Success the Guarantee of National Unity."

John B. Stoll, editor of the South Bend (Ind.) Times, and Andrew McLean, editor of the Brooklyn Eagle, also spoke.

PARKER TO MAKE A SPEECH.

Democratic Candidate Will Address Visiting Editors.

Esopus, N. Y., Sept. 8.—Alton B. Parker will make his first speech since his formal acceptance of the Democratic nomination at Rosemont today in the presence of the visiting editors of Democratic newspapers. It will take the form of a reply to an address of greeting to be made by Charles W. Knapp of St. Louis.

The editors are expected to arrive from New York before noon.

Judge Parker will speak from the veranda at Rosemont and with the exception of the brief speeches there will be nothing formal about the occasion.

MOB LYNCHES A NEGRO.

Smokes Him Out of the Jail and Then Hangs Him.

Huntsville, Ala., Sept. 8.—After setting fire to the jail and smoking out the prisoner while the fire department was held at bay with guns and the sheriff, his deputies and the soldiers were outwitted, a mob of 2,000 persons last night lynched Horace Maples, a negro, accused of murdering John Waldrop. Maples was hanged on a tree on the courthouse lawn.

This action of the mob was taken notwithstanding strong protests made by Solicitor Erie Pettus and H. Wallace, Jr., in stirring speeches in which law and order were pleaded.

VOTE TO REMAIN OUT

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Having voted to continue the stockyards struggle until better terms can be secured, the strike leaders now are in a quandry as to what the next move shall be. When the result of the vote of the men defeating the proposal to return to work was announced Wednesday it was said by union officials that a second ballot would be ordered at once. Shortly after announcement was made however, the plan was abandoned and efforts were begun to secure another conference with the packers. In this the strikers were unsuccessful and then a second announcement was made that the order issued last week, placing all meat on the unfair list would go into effect last night. While arrangements were making to put this order into effect it was discovered by some of the leaders that the allied trades conference board would have to give their consent to the order before it could be enforced and that it would be impossible to put the manifesto into effect last night, as the allied trades conference board would not be able to arrange for a meeting of its members until today. It was then said that the central organization would meet today to consider the question.

GEOGRAPHERS WILL MEET.

Eighth International Congress to Be Held in Washington.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The eighth international geographical congress will convene here today and will continue through Saturday. It will be the first gathering, either national or international, of the geographers of the United States or the Western hemisphere, and is regarded as a tribute of recognition by the world of the wonderful advance made during the past decade of the science of geography in North America. Following the precedent of other countries where congresses have been held, the honorary president of the eighth international congress will be President Theodore Roosevelt, who has taken a personal interest in the meeting and to whom many of the eminent men attending the congress are well known. Commander Robert E. Peary, the Arctic explorer, is the actual president and will preside at all the general sessions. C. D. Walcott, director of the geological survey, will represent President Roosevelt and make the formal address of welcome in his name.

LOUISVILLE TEAM IS FIRST.

Kentuckians Capture Highest Honors in Templars Drill.

San Francisco, Sept. 8.—The competition drill between four well drilled teams of Knights Templars was Wednesday's feature of the triennial convulse. Louisville commandery No. 1 won the first prize, St. Bernard, Chicago, was second; Ivanhoe, Milwaukee, third; Malta, Binghamton, N. Y., fourth.

Fully 25,000 persons witnessed the marching and counter-marching of the competing teams.

The grand encampment held a forenoon and an afternoon session, disposing of much business. There were also excursions to points of interest.

At night a banquet was given to the grand encampment and the representatives from Great Britain, followed by concerts and receptions at many headquarters. Eminent Grand Master Stoddard and the Earl of Euston were guests of honor at a reception given by the grand commandery of Ohio.

TO RUN THE CAMPAIGN.

Frank A. Day Chairman of Minnesota Democrats.

St. Paul, Sept. 8.—Frank A. Day of Fairmont was named chairman and M. F. Kain of St. Paul secretary of the state Democratic organization at a meeting of the central committee at the Merchants hotel during the day.

The executive committee was named by adding one member from each district to the committeemen-at-large selected at the state convention in Minneapolis Tuesday of last week.

L. A. Rosing tendered the declination of John Lind to be a candidate for the supreme bench and his refusal to run was accepted without debate. Former Congressman O. M. Hall of Red Wing was named by the committee to fill the vacancy on the ticket caused by the declination of John Lind to make the canvass for the supreme bench.

NEW HAMPSHIRE DEMOCRATS.

Nominate Henry F. Hollis of Concord for Governor.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 8.—For a second time the Democrats of New Hampshire Wednesday nominated Henry F. Hollis of Concord to be their candidate for governor. The state convention was held here and plans made at a caucus Tuesday night were fully carried out.

FIGHT NEAR MUKDEN

RETIRING TO TIELING PASS

BELIEVED THAT THE MAIN RUSSIAN ARMY WILL MAKE A STAND THERE.

RUSSIAN LOSS VERY HEAVY

A great battle is now raging before Mukden. The First and Seventeenth Russian army corps are engaged in trying to hold back the forces of General Kuropatkin.

Evidently the Japanese are making a desperate effort to isolate the main Russian army before it can reach Tieling pass, thirty miles north of Mukden. Once through this narrow and dangerous defile, the Russians could, by the sacrifice of a small force, hold the advancing hordes of the Japanese in check until the main Russian army had obtained a good lead on the long retreat to Harbin, about 300 miles farther north.

It is possible that Kuropatkin, in case his forces repulse those of Kuropatkin near Mukden, will make a stand at Tieling pass, where all conditions are favorable for a successful defense. But it is a question whether his supplies would allow him to make such a stand.

Kuropatkin, who is at Mukden, has taken precautions to prevent the seizure of Tieling pass by the Japanese, and all the Russian guns, supplies and men who have reached Mukden have continued on to the north, showing that Kuropatkin will not make a stand at Mukden itself unless circumstances compel an engagement there.

From Tokio comes the report that 10,000 Russians have been captured since the Japanese crossed the Taitse river and estimating the total Russian losses since the retreat from Liaoyang began at fully 50,000 men, or about one-fourth of Kuropatkin's estimated army.

The whole country around Mukden is aflame with the wildest and most contradictory rumors, but the most alarming statement is that the Chinese population is growing more hostile to the Russians as the Japanese advance. The Japanese are still harassing the Russian rear guard and with Kuropatkin's forces crashing against the flank of the fleeing Russians, the prelude to the most colossal conflict of the war is now being waged near Mukden. The issue of the campaign itself will probably be decided at Tieling.

The Japanese are said to have landed several fresh divisions at Possiet bay, just south of Vladivostok. This force may isolate that place and a portion of it march along the railroad to Harbin or cut off Kuropatkin's retreat to that place.

GREAT BATTLE IS ON

KUROKI'S TROOPS ATTACK RUSSIAN FORCES AT THE GATES OF MUKDEN.

Paris, Sept. 8.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Echo de Paris says:

"A great battle is going on before Mukden. The First and Seventeenth corps are engaged against General Kuropatkin.

WHOLE COUNTRY IS AFLAME.

Wild and Contradictory Rumors Thick at Mukden.

Mukden, Sept. 8.—The whole country is aflame with the wildest and most contradictory rumors.

The principal interest in the situation is in the fact that the Chinese population is turning more against Russia with the advance of the Japanese army.

Mukden itself is overcrowded and it is almost impossible to get food or a place to sleep.

Everywhere there is the greatest uproar and confusion and many families are leaving in the direction of Harbin. The soldiers, however, are not at all disheartened at the result of the fight, and they say that the Japanese losses are so tremendous as to seriously weaken them. They declare that they have made the Japanese pay infinitely more for Liaoyang than it was worth.

TOOK IMPORTANT POSITIONS.

Japs Had Port Arthur Russians in Desperate Plight.

Chefoo, Sept. 8.—It is now apparent that the heavy fighting reported by numerous Chinese refugees as having occurred before Port Arthur between Aug. 27 and 31, occurred chiefly on the first two days mentioned, the Japanese thereafter directing their efforts almost entirely to holding the positions they had obtained. That these positions were of considerable importance is evidenced by the fact that the Russians risked the lives of valuable men in open fight in their efforts to dislodge the Japanese from them. KILLS WIFE AND HIMSELF.

Chicago Man's Method of Evading Payment of Alimony.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Rather than pay his wife, from whom he had been separated, $7 a week, as ordered by the court, Joseph Regnet, a porter, last night shot and killed her and then committed suicide.

GRANT SPLITS BELL'S ARMY.

Left Wing of the Latter's Force is Cut in Two.

Gainesville, Va., Sept. 8.—The first maneuver problem closed at noon Wednesday with General Grant's force pushed through the left wing of General Bell's army. This put the blue force within two miles of Thoroughfare Gap, the objective point. However, General Bell had Smith's brigade on the right and Barry's brigade on the left of this breach in his line and Colonel Wagner, chief umpire, draws no conclusion as to what might happen had not hostilities ceased under the command previously issued by General Corbin to cease hostilities at noon so that the tired troops might be given relief. Previous to this attack on the part of the blue force there had been severe fighting on the line to which General Bell had fallen back during the night. This line, the Antioch road, was within two miles of the western limit of the maneuver zone and extended the five miles of the width of the zone. While General Bell was falling back to the new line General Grant, between midnight and daylight, concentrated his forces for an attack on the brown line. He withdrew all of his cavalry from the southern portion of his line, their position on the first day, and threw two full brigades and sixteen guns to the point indicated. His artillery was so well placed that it had unobstructed play for an hour on the brown line. The effect of this fire was not taken into account by a decision rendered by the umpire on the field early in the battle, when the blue force was required to fall back, but was taken into account later and credit given accordingly.

Every spectacular feature of a battle in full progress was produced in the maneuvers and the field was viewed from near and far by many spectators.

Some of the militia troops ate their two days' rations the first day and went hungry Wednesday.

VOTE TO REMAIN OUT

LEADERS FORMULATE PLANS

TRYING TO DECIDE UPON BEST METHOD OF MAKING STRIKE EFFECTIVE.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Having voted to continue the stockyards struggle until better terms can be secured, the strike leaders now are in a quandary as to what the next move shall be. When the result of the vote of the men defeating the proposal to return to work was announced Wednesday it was said by union officials that a second ballot would be ordered at once. Shortly after announcement was made however, the plan was abandoned and efforts were begun to secure another conference with the packers. In this the strikers were unsuccessful and then a second announcement was made that the order issued last week, placing all meat on the unfair list would go into effect last night. While arrangements were making to put this order into effect it was discovered by some of the leaders that the allied trades conference board would have to give their consent to the order before it could be enforced and that it would be impossible to put the manifesto into effect last night, as the allied trades conference board would not be able to arrange for a meeting of its members until today. It was then said that the central organization would meet today to consider the question.

Forecast—Generally fair.

Temperature (Record kept by Dr. J. L. Camp from 7 a. m. yesterday morning to 7 a. m. this morning)—Maximum 59 above zero; minimum 50 above zero.

The Jews of the world number over ten million, one-half of whom reside in Russia.

ALL crops this fall are not failures. The crop of weeds in some of the streets in this city certainly is immense.

THE Fargo Call says there are alleys in that city that speak louder than words. Unfortunately Brainerd is not exempt.

RUSSIA will rank with Spain and Portugal as a military power when Japan gets through with her, unless peace is concluded pretty soon.

THE political barometer indicates remarkably fair weather for republican success this fall. Every early state election only shows more plainly the general trend of the country towards President Roosevelt, in the east as well as the west.

Few congressmen can show as good a record for meritorious services during the first year of his first term as Congressman C. B. Buckman, of this district. His success in serving his constituents has been remarkable for a first term and forcibly shows the ability and zeal with which he fills the duties of his office. To refuse to renominate and re-elect him would be unwise and foolish and a poor reward for services well performed.

What is Life?

In the last analysis nobody knows, but we do know that it is under strict law. Abuse that law even slightly, pain results, irregular living means derangement of the organs, resulting in constipation, headache or liver trouble. Dr. King's New Life Pills quickly re-adjusts this. It's gentle, yet thorough. Only 25c at H. P. Dunn & Co.'s drug store.

BURGLARS ARE STILL VERY BUSY

Saloon of Louis Nelson Broken into Last Night and Cash Drawer Rifled

THEY GOT ABOUT $20 IN MONEY

Police Think They Have a Clue as to the Guilty Parties and Arrests May Follow.

There was another burglary last night and it is a case where the member of this stripe of man is no respecter of place or person. It is believed the burglary last night, when the saloon of Louis Nelson was entered, was committed by one and the same individuals who entered the Y. M. C. A. the night before. An entrance was effected through a dinky little window leading to the cellar. Once in the cellar the upstairs was of easy access. The intruders went in, took $20 out of the cash drawer and got out the same way they came.

The police have suspicions that some young men about the city did the work and some rigid investigations will follow.

The Only Line With a World's Fair Station.

This refers to the Minneapolis & St. Louis railroad and means:

1st—The shortest line.
2nd—The most comfortable route.
3rd—Two fine through trains direct to the gates of the fair.

4th—A saving of about three hours in time.

5th—You avoid the crowds at the union depot and on the street cars.

6th—You save money by being landed just where you want to go.

There are many other reasons but "a word to the wise is sufficient."

For excursion tickets, berth reservations and a complete guide to the fair, free, address A. B. Cutts, G. P. & T. A., Minneapolis, Minn.

Only 50 cents per $100 for three years. Office in Columbian Block. Open day and evenings.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Meeting Held on Tuesday Evening and Considerable Routine Business was Transacted by the Members

There was a meeting of the board of education on Tuesday evening and considerable business of a routine nature was transacted.

Supt. Hartley announced that he had appointed Miss L. Barrett principal of the Whittier school and her salary was fixed at $60.

Supt. Hartley brought up the matter of purchasing pianos for the different schools in the city and it was referred to the teachers' committee to report at the next meeting.

On motion Secretary Mahlum was instructed to write the attorney general for his opinion whether or not it is required that the different boilers in the school buildings of the city be inspected by the state boiler inspector.

Miss Marion Halladay was engaged as text book clerk and her salary was fixed at $30 a month.

Supt. Hartley reported the engagement of the following new teachers: Miss Rose A. Simmons, English, $80 per month; Miss Johanna Ahren, third grade Harrison, $50 per month; Miss Catherine McCarthy, second grade Lincoln, $52.50 per month; Miss Catherine McShane, third grade Lincoln, $52.50 per month; Miss Rose M. Arnold, fourth grade Lincoln, $55 per month.

The committee on buildings and repairs reported having done the work requested in making repairs about the various buildings.

Treasurer Hemstead submitted his report for the quarter ending July 31. The balance on hand at that time was $6322.26. The receipts for this quarter were $28807.09 and the disbursement were the same.

Miss Lucy Farrington, of Ypsilanti, Mich., who has been a guest of Miss Edna Stickney, returned home this afternoon.

Fred Hoffman went down to St. Paul this afternoon to visit with his wife who is being treated by a specialist for nervous trouble.

The Ladies Aid of the First Baptist church will meet with Mrs. Weddell, corner of Norwood and Seventh Sts., tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. Erkel, of Minneapolis, and her daughter, Mrs. Nichols, who have been here since the funeral of Mrs. Sid Hockridge, returned home this afternoon.

Mrs. F. E. Low and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Gil Chadbourne, of Minneapolis, went to Smiley yesterday afternoon for a few days' outing. Mr. Low expects to spend Sunday there.

The services which were to have been held at the Episcopal church tomorrow night have been indefinitely postponed as Rev. Mr. Affbegren, the missionary, will not be able to be present.

Jerry Flickwir left this afternoon and will visit in the east for about a month. He will first go to Buffalo and from there to the World's Fair and back to Chicago and Beardstown, Ill., where he will visit for a time.

The vestrymen of St. Paul's Episcopal church will give an entertainment some night the last of this month. They are preparing an excellent program, the details of which have been left in the hands of a competent committee.

President LaBar, of the First National, returned this noon from Cass Lake where he went to let the contract for the rebuilding of a part of the First National bank building there which was damaged by the explosion some time ago.

Mrs. G. W. Eastman, Edwin Blake's her son, and Mrs. G. F. Mitchell left this afternoon for the twin cities. Master Edwin Blake is going to enter the Shattuck school at Faribault for the year. Mrs. Eastman went down with him.

Mrs. Mary Cushner died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Rosini, this morning after a long illness with a complication of diseases. The funeral will probably be held on Saturday morning.

Mrs. Cushner is an old resident of this city and is very well known in the vicinity where she lives, near the mill.

THEY GOT ABOUT $20 IN MONEY

Police Think They Have a Clue as to the Guilty Parties and Arrests May Follow.

There was another burglary last night and it is a case where the member of this stripe of man is no respecter of place or person. It is believed the burglary last night, when the saloon of Louis Nelson was entered, was committed by one and the same individuals who entered the Y. M. C. A. the night before.

An entrance was effected through a dinky little window leading to the cellar. Once in the cellar the upstairs was of easy access. The intruders went in, took $20 out of the cash drawer and got out the same way they came.

The police have suspicions that some young men about the city did the work and some rigid investigations will follow.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Meeting Held on Tuesday Evening and Considerable Routine Business was Transacted by the Members

There was a meeting of the board of education on Tuesday evening and considerable business of a routine nature was transacted.

Supt. Hartley announced that he had appointed Miss L. Barrett principal of the Whittier school and her salary was fixed at $90.

Supt. Hartley brought up the matter of purchasing pianos for the different schools in the city and it was referred to the teachers' committee to report at the next meeting.

On motion Secretary Mahlum was instructed to write the attorney general for his opinion whether or not it is required that the different boilers in the school buildings of the city be inspected by the state boiler inspector.

Miss Marion Halladay was engaged as text book clerk and her salary was fixed at $30 a month.

Supt. Hartley reported the engagement of the following new teachers: Miss Rose A. Simmons, English, $80 per month; Miss Johanna Ahren, third grade Harrison, $50 per month; Miss Catherine McCarthy, second grade Lincoln, $52.50 per month; Miss Catherine McShane, third grade Lincoln, $52.50 per month; Miss Rose M. Arnold, fourth grade Lincoln, $55 per month.

The committee on buildings and repairs reported having done the work requested in making repairs about the various buildings.

Treasurer Hemstead submitted his report for the quarter ending July 31. The balance on hand at that time was $6322.26. The receipts for this quarter were $28807.09 and the disbursement were the same.

ALL crops this fall are not failures. The crop of weeds in some of the streets in this city certainly is immense.

THE Fargo Call says there are alleys in that city that speak louder than words. Unfortunately Brainerd is not exempt.

RUSSIA will rank with Spain and Portugal as a military power when Japan gets through with her, unless peace is concluded pretty soon.

THE political barometer indicates remarkably fair weather for republican success this fall. Every early state election only shows more plainly the general trend of the country towards President Roosevelt, in the east as well as the west.

FEW congressmen can show as good a record for meritorious services during the first year of his first term as Congressman C. B. Buckman, of this district. His success in serving his constituents has been remarkable for a first term and forcibly shows the ability and zeal with which he fills the duties of his office. To refuse to renominate and re-elect him would be unwise and foolish and a poor reward for services well performed.

Chief Bennett and Fire Committee will Make Effort to Organize One Hose Company

A MEETING OF COUNCIL HELD

Much Discussion Over Matter of Laying a Sidewalk Along Laurel to the Bridge

A meeting of the city council was held last night. President Crust, as usual, was at the helm and the following aldermen were present: Halladay, Purdy, Rowley, McGinn, Larson and Robertson.

A question arose as to the proper record in the minutes of the last meeting relating to that part which had to do with the resignations of members of hose companies Nos. 1 and 2. Attorney Fleming wanted the minutes to read that some members resigned and not the entire companies as there were one or two in each company who did not resign. It was decided that the minutes would stand and the question of disbanding the companies would be taken up later.

The report of Clerk F. E. Low of the municipal court for the month of August showed 26 arrests in city cases; 17 paid fines, 3 were committed without paying fines, 3 sentences were suspended, 3 were discharged after hearing and $303.95 was collected in fines. 7 state cases were commenced and 6 were settled. The report was accepted and filed.

The report of Chief of Police Sargent was accepted and filed.

The report of Supt. Peterson, of the electric light plant, showed 42 incandescent lights out in during the month, none were cut out, 18 enclosed arc lights were put in and 82 open arc lights are now in use. He recommended that the flat rate of $3 for enclosed arc lamps used outside of stores and saloons be changed to $5.

An estimate of the work done on the First district sewer by Chris Johnson was furnished by Engineer Woolman. The total amount was $5,243.90 less 20 per cent, or $1,048.78. The total amount now due the contractor is $4,195.12. On motion the estimate was accepted and placed on file.

The finance committee reported having checked up the books of the city clerk and city treasurer and found the same correct and all monies accounted for.

The following pay rolls were on motion allowed:

City employees.....	$393.33
Police department.....	368.00
Fire department.....	122.50
Electric light.....	468.50
Street employees.....	200.25

The electric light committee made a report on the investigation of the difference between Supt. Peterson and White Bros. in the wiring of the Walverman block. The committee reported that a representative of the General Electric Co. had been interviewed and that he stated the wire could not be secured at the prices stated by the Messrs. White Bros.

This representative stated that he had figured on the job and found that the work would cost something like $296 without profit.

The committee reported adversely on the request that the salary of night engineer at the electric light plant be increased. The report was accepted and filed.

Alderman Halladay brought up a matter of importance in connection with the wiring of buildings. He moved that a resolution be prepared by the city attorney providing that all wiring in the future be done under the National Underwriters Association regulations.

City Attorney Fleming, to whom had been referred the matter of the petition of business men along Eighth street that the sidewalks to be laid be 15 feet wide in the future, reported last night. This applies to the sidewalks between Front street and the mill track. Attorney Fleming had prepared an ordinance providing that this procedure be taken and it was unanimously adopted.

There was considerable discussion over an ordinance offered providing for the laying of cement walks in the city, the particular strip over which there was this discussion being the walk along the north side of Laurel street from Fifth street to the Mississippi river wagon bridge. Alderman Gardner was a strong advocate in favor of constructing the walk on the south side of the street and that it be 6 feet wide. He succeeded in defeating the ordinance and a motion prevailed that the city attorney prepare the ordinance without the strip from Fifth to the bridge. Finally the ordinance was referred back to the street committee and city attorney to report on at the next meeting.

A resolution was adopted disbanding Hose Companies Nos. 1 and 2, it being generally understood that the action taken at the last meeting of the council did not disband the companies as was thought. The resolution also provided that the chief and the fire committee be instructed to reorganize one company. Chief Bennett made a statement regarding the matter. He would like to see a compromise between the members of the old companies and the city council and thought that if both would give in a little a point of compromise could be reached.

The matter of the sewer warrants camp up last night again and it seems as though the banks of the city insist that W. H. Mantor act as special attorney in preparing these warrants as to form. The city council is up against it and while they felt that it was not doing City Attorney Fleming justice, as they believe him to be thoroughly competent and reliable, they could do nothing else at present than to hire Mr. Mantor to satisfy the banks. There is due the contractor something over $4000 for work already on the district sewer and something has to be done at once to get the money.

A petition from residents of Pine street to have a water main laid was referred to the sewer committee. The petition was not correct as to form and City Attorney Fleming will make the proper alterations.

On motion it was decided to change the rate of enclosed arc lights in front of stores and saloons from $3 to $5 per month.

Say boys! look over our new Joint. If you don't like it tell us how it should be done.

AN AUTUMN

WEDDING

WAS A VERY SWELL AFFAIR

There was a very pretty autumn wedding last evening at the home of Mr. T. M. Reilly, of East Brainerd when his daughter, Miss Dell Reilly, was given away in marriage to Mr. J. A. Batchelder.

The affair was one of the prettiest home weddings that has ever been seen in Brainerd, every appointment being especially well arranged and appropriate to the season—autumn. There were about fifty guests present, most of these being relatives of the contracting parties and intimate friends.

The ceremony was performed in the back parlor at 8:30 o'clock. At this hour the organ pealed forth the beautiful strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, Mrs. J. P. Early presiding at the organ, and the ribbon girls marched through the parlors and formed the aisle for the wedding party. The ribbon girls were the Misses Rose Poppenberg, Rose Lillig and Kitty and Helen Reilly. The first to appear in the line was Miss Agnes McCarthy, the bridesmaid. She wore a gown of white net over green silk and carried a bouquet of pink flowers.

Miss McCarthy was followed by Miss Mayme Reilly, sister of the bride, who acted as maid of honor. She was dressed in a gown of flowered net over pink silk and carried pink roses.

The bride then followed leaning on the arm of her father, Mr. T. M. Reilly and they marched slowly to a point underneath the chandelier in the back parlor. Here they were met by Rev. Father D. W. Lynch and the groom and the ceremony was performed. The bride was attired in a gown made of white crepe de chene over white taffeta, trimmed with point lace. She carried a beautiful kerchief and a bouquet of bridal roses.

The color scheme, and in fact, the entire decoration carried out the idea perfectly of an autumn wedding. The parlors were artistically decorated with autumn leaves, golden glows, palms, ferns and golden rod. There was a bank of these products in the corner of the back parlor which served as a background during the ceremony and the effect was very beautiful.

The same idea was carried out in the dining room, except that everything was red, mountain ash berries being the predominant decoration. The table was nicely arranged, the center piece consisting of a large candelabrum surmounted with tapers of reddish hue. The house decorations were very pretty and the effect was especially seasonable.

The bride is a very popular young lady in this city and she has hosts of friends who extend happy greetings. The groom too has been blessed with the close acquaintance of a large number of people in the city and he is extremely popular.

Mr. and Mrs. Batchelder left on the midnight train for eastern points and expect to be gone on their wedding tour about two weeks. The bride's going away gown was brown with brown hat to match and she looked charming.

Other weddings of interest to Brainerd and Crow Wing county people are reported as follows by the St. Cloud Journal-Press:

HESSL-STAPLES.

"At 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Staples, was solemnized the marriage of John C. Hessel, Jr., of Brainerd, and Miss Martha C. E. Staples, of this city, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. E. V. Campbell, and witnessed by a large company of guests, including many from Brainerd and elsewhere out of the city. The bridal party stood during the service under a bower of asters and foliage, and the home was tastefully decorated for the occasion. After the ceremony refreshments were served and a season of sociability followed, the bride and bridegroom being later escorted to the train by a large company of friends, who gave them a very merry 'send-off,' the prominent features of which were showers of rice and good wishes in equal proportions."

MILLS-ORTON.

"The marriage of O. O. Mills, of Osage, Crow Wing county, and Miss Ada Orton, of this city, took place at the home of the bride's parents on the east side at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening. The ceremony was read by the Rev. E. V. Campbell, in the presence of a company of guests composed mainly of relatives of the families. The rooms were beautifully decorated with wild flowers and greenery, and after the ceremony the guests sat down to a wedding supper composed of a profusion of good things.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills will make their home at Osage and the congratulations of many friends will be with them."

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"A FRIEND OF THE FAMILY."

"A Friend of the Family," one of the very cleverest farces ever written, will be the next offering at the Brainerd Opera house. The performance will be given here on next Tuesday evening, September 13. The fact that the performance was given here only last winter is sure to help swell the crowd that will see it here on its second visit. Not knowing how good a performance it was Brainerd people did not turn out very promiscuously last winter, but those who did go were highly gratified and anyone who is now in doubt as to the merit of the production has but to ask his or her neighbor.

The gowns worn by Miss Thias Magranne and the other members of the gentler sex during the three laugh provoking acts of this play are said to be revelations of the dress maker's art and to be the admiration and envy of every lady present. Undoubtedly that is the reason that this play has been so enthusiastically received by a majority of the ladies in every city, especially as the comedy although exuberantly funny, is free from any suggestion of buffoonery or vulgarity. As a large advance sale is looked for, those wishing desirable seats would do well to have them marked off early.

STILL HARPING

THE DIFFICULTY

Chief Bennett and Fire Committee will Make Effort to Organize One Hose Company

A MEETING OF COUNCIL HELD

A meeting of the city council was held last night. President Crust, as usual, was at the helm and the following aldermen were present: Halladay, Purdy, Rowley, McGinn, Larson and Robertson.

A question arose as to the proper record in the minutes of the last meeting relating to that part which had to do with the resignations of members of hose companies Nos. 1 and 2. Attorney Fleming wanted the minutes to read that some members resigned and not the entire companies as there were one or two in each company who did not resign. It was decided that the minutes would stand and the question of disbanding the companies would be taken up later.

The report of Clerk F. E. Low of the municipal court for the month of August showed 26 arrests in city cases; 17 paid fines, 3 were committed without paying fines, 3 sentences were suspended, 3 were discharged after hearing and $303.95 was collected in fines. 7 state cases were commenced and 6 were settled. The report was accepted and filed.

The report of Chief of Police Sargent was accepted and filed.

The report of Supt. Peterson, of the electric light plant, showed 42 incandescent lights cut in during the month, none were cut out, 18 enclosed arc lights were put in and 82 open arc lights are now in use. He recommended that the flat rate of $3 for enclosed arc lamps used outside of stores and saloons be changed to $5.

An estimate of the work done on the First district sewer by Chris Johnson was furnished by Engineer Woolman. The total amount was $5,243.90 less 20 per cent, or $1,048.78. The total amount now due the contractor is $4,195.12. On motion the estimate was accepted and placed on file.

The finance committee reported having checked up the books of the city clerk and city treasurer and found the same correct and all monies accounted for.

The following pay rolls were on motion allowed:

City employees.....	$393.33
Police department.....	368.00
Fire department.....	122.50
Electric light.....	468.50
Street employees.....	200.25

The electric light committee made a report on the investigation of the difference between Supt. Peterson and White Bros. in the wiring of the Walverman block. The committee reported that a representative of the General Electric Co. had been interviewed and that he stated the wire could not be secured at the prices stated by the Messrs. White Bros.

This representative stated that he had figured on the job and found that the work would cost something like $296 without profit.

The committee reported adversely on the request that the salary of night engineer at the electric light plant be increased. The report was accepted and filed.

Alderman Halladay brought up a matter of importance in connection with the wiring of buildings. He moved that a resolution be prepared by the city attorney providing that all wiring in the future be done under the National Underwriters Association regulations.

City Attorney Fleming, to whom had been referred the matter of the petition of business men along Eighth street that the sidewalks to be laid be 15 feet wide in the future, reported last night. This applies to the sidewalks between Front street and the mill track. Attorney Fleming had prepared an ordinance providing that this procedure be taken and it was unanimously adopted.

There was considerable discussion over an ordinance offered providing for the laying of cement walks in the city, the particular strip over which there was this discussion being the walk along the north side of Laurel street from Fifth street to the Mississippi river wagon bridge. Alderman Gardner was a strong advocate in favor of constructing the walk on the south side of the street and that it be 6 feet wide. He succeeded in defeating the ordinance and a motion prevailed that the city attorney prepare the ordinance without the strip from Fifth to the bridge. Finally the ordinance was referred back to the street committee and city attorney to report on at the next meeting.

A resolution was adopted disbanding Hose Companies Nos. 1 and 2, it being generally understood that the action taken at the last meeting of the council did not disband the companies as was thought. The resolution also provided that the chief and the fire committee be instructed to reorganize one company. Chief Bennett made a statement regarding the matter. He would like to see a compromise between the members of the old companies and the city council and thought that if both would give in a little a point of compromise could be reached.

The matter of the sewer warrants camp up last night again and it seems as though the banks of the city insist that W. H. Mantor act as special attorney in preparing these warrants as to form. The city council is up against it and while they felt that it was not doing City Attorney Fleming justice, as they believe him to be thoroughly competent and reliable, they could do nothing else at present than to hire Mr. Mantor to satisfy the banks. There is due the contractor something over $4000 for work already on the district sewer and something has to be done at once to get the money.

A petition from residents of Pine street to have a water main laid was referred to the sewer committee. The petition was not correct as to form and City Attorney Fleming will make the proper alterations.

On motion it was decided to change the rate of enclosed arc lights in front of stores and saloons from $3 to $5 per month.

Say boys! look over our new Joint. If you don't like it tell us how it should be done.

AN AUTUMN

WEDDING

WAS A VERY SWELL AFFAIR

There was a very pretty autumn wedding last evening at the home of Mr. T. M. Reilly, of East Brainerd when his daughter, Miss Dell Reilly, was given away in marriage to Mr. J. A. Batchelder.

The affair was one of the prettiest home weddings that has ever been seen in Brainerd, every appointment being especially well arranged and appropriate to the season—autumn. There were about fifty guests present, most of these being relatives of the contracting parties and intimate friends.

The ceremony was performed in the back parlor at 8:30 o'clock. At this hour the organ pealed forth the beautiful strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, Mrs. J. P. Early presiding at the organ, and the ribbon girls marched through the parlors and formed the aisle for the wedding party. The ribbon girls were the Misses Rose Poppenberg, Rose Lillig and Kitty and Helen Reilly. The first to appear in the line was Miss Agnes McCarthy, the bridesmaid. She wore a gown of white net over green silk and carried a bouquet of pink flowers.

Miss McCarthy was followed by Miss Mayme Reilly, sister of the bride, who acted as maid of honor. She was dressed in a gown of flowered net over pink silk and carried pink roses.

The bride then followed leaning on the arm of her father, Mr. T. M. Reilly and they marched slowly to a point underneath the chandelier in the back parlor. Here they were met by Rev. Father D. W. Lynch and the groom and the ceremony was performed. The bride was attired in a gown made of white crepe de chene over white taffeta, trimmed with point lace. She carried a beautiful kerchief and a bouquet of bridal roses.

The color scheme, and in fact, the entire decoration carried out the idea perfectly of an autumn wedding. The parlors were artistically decorated with autumn leaves, golden glows, palms, ferns and golden rod. There was a bank of these products in the corner of the back parlor which served as a background during the ceremony and the effect was very beautiful.

The same idea was carried out in the dining room, except that everything was red, mountain ash berries being the predominant decoration. The table was nicely arranged, the center piece consisting of a large chandelier surmounted with tapers of reddish hue. The house decorations were very pretty and the effect was especially seasonable.

The bride is a very popular young lady in this city and she has hosts of friends who extend happy greetings. The groom too has been blessed with the close acquaintance of a large number of people in the city and he is extremely popular.

Mr. and Mrs. Batchelder left on the midnight train for eastern points and expect to be gone on their wedding tour about two weeks. The bride's going away gown was brown with brown hat to match and she looked charming.

London, Sept. 8.—The Daily Mail's Kupangse correspondent, cabling under date of Sept. 7, says:

"Rail cars at the rate of eighty a day, loaded with wounded, are passing through the station for Mukden. The shrapnel injuries are frightful, and a majority of the men succumb on the journey to the hospital.

"Correspondents arriving here keenly resent their treatment by the Japanese and declare that they see nothing of the war. They are treated as though they are spies, while native correspondents are permitted to see the fighting and telegraph freely."

The Daily Mail's Chefoo correspondent says that Rear Admiral Uru has been ordered to remain outside Shanghai with his squadron until Port Arthur falls.

TWO KILLED IN COLLISION.

Milwaukee Railway Trains in Fatal Crash on Siding.

Montevideo, Minn., Sept. 3.—A bad railroad wreck occurred here at midnight. Express No. 3 on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul from the east struck an extra freight, wrecking both engines and tenders and the mail car. Fireman Dan Fillmore was killed in jumping from the engine. Gus Buckland, a tramp riding on the blind baggage, was also killed. One unknown tramp was badly injured, but will recover.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Kentuckian Kills His Wife and Ends His Own Life.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 8.—William E. Neal, under indictment for the murder last winter of Assistant Commonwealth Attorney James K. Spreader, Wednesday shot and killed his wife, Nellie Robinson Neal, and then ended his own life. The tragedy occurred in a boardinghouse on West Broadway, where Neal and his wife had been living since Sunday as Mr. and Mrs. Johnson of Nashville, Tenn.

A MEETING OF COUNCIL HELD

Much Discussion Over Matter of Laying a Sidewalk Along
Laurel to the Bridge

A meeting of the city council was held last night. President Crust, as usual, was at the helm and the following aldermen were present: Halladay, Purdy, Rowley, McGinn, Larson and Robertson.

A question arose as to the proper record in the minutes of the last meeting relating to that part which had to do with the resignations of members of hose companies Nos. 1 and 2. Attorney Fleming wanted the minutes to read that some members resigned and not the entire companies as there were one or two in each company who did not resign. It was decided that the minutes would stand and the question of disbanding the companies would be taken up later.

The report of Clerk F. E. Low of the municipal court for the month of August showed 26 arrests in city cases; 17 paid fines, 3 were committed without paying fines, 3 sentences were suspended, 3 were discharged after hearing and $303.95 was collected in fines. 7 state cases were commenced and 6 were settled. The report was accepted and filed.

The report of Chief of Police Sargent was accepted and filed.

The report of Supt. Peterson, of the electric light plant, showed 42 incandescent lights out in during the month, none were cut out, 18 enclosed arc lights were put in and 82 open arc lights are now in use. He recommended that the flat rate of $3 for enclosed arc lamps used outside of stores and saloons be changed to $5.

An estimate of the work done on the First district sewer by Chris Johnson was furnished by Engineer Woolman. The total amount was $5,243.90 less 20 per cent, or $1,048.78. The total amount now due the contractor is $4,195.12. On motion the estimate was accepted and placed on file.

The finance committee reported having checked up the books of the city clerk and city treasurer and found the same correct and all monies accounted for.

The following pay rolls were on motion allowed:

City employees.....	$393.33
Police department.....	368.00
Fire department.....	122.50
Electric light.....	468.50
Street employees.....	200.25

The electric light committee made a report on the investigation of the difference between Supt. Peterson and White Bros. in the wiring of the Walverman block. The committee reported that a representative of the General Electric Co. had been interviewed and that he stated the wire could not be secured at the prices stated by the Messrs. White Bros.

This representative stated that he had figured on the job and found that the work would cost something like $296 without profit.

The committee reported adversely on the request that the salary of night engineer at the electric light plant be increased. The report was accepted and filed.

Alderman Halladay brought up a matter of importance in connection with the wiring of buildings. He moved that a resolution be prepared by the city attorney providing that all wiring in the future be done under the National Underwriters Association regulations.

City Attorney Fleming, to whom had been referred the matter of the petition of business men along Eighth street that the sidewalks to be laid be 15 feet wide in the future, reported last night. This applies to the sidewalks between Front street and the mill track. Attorney Fleming had prepared an ordinance providing that this procedure be taken and it was unanimously adopted.

There was considerable discussion over an ordinance offered providing for the laying of cement walks in the city, the particular strip over which there was this discussion being the walk along the north side of Laurel street from Fifth street to the Mississippi river wagon bridge. Alderman Gardner was a strong advocate in favor of constructing the walk on the south side of the street and that it be 6 feet wide. He succeeded in defeating the ordinance and a motion prevailed that the city attorney prepare the ordinance without the strip from Fifth to the bridge. Finally the ordinance was referred back to the street committee and city attorney to report on at the next meeting.

A resolution was adopted disbanding Hose Companies Nos. 1 and 2, it being generally understood that the action taken at the last meeting of the council did not disband the companies as was thought. The resolution also provided that the chief and the fire committee be instructed to reorganize one company. Chief Bennett made a statement regarding the matter. He would like to see a compromise between the members of the old companies and the city council and thought that if both would give in a little a point of compromise could be reached.

The matter of the sewer warrants camp up last night again and it seems as though the banks of the city insist that W. H. Mantor act as special attorney in preparing these warrants as to form. The city council is up against it and while they felt that it was not doing City Attorney Fleming justice, as they believe him to be thoroughly competent and reliable, they could do nothing else at present than to hire Mr. Mantor to satisfy the banks. There is due the contractor something over $1000 for work already on the district sewer and something has to be done at once to get the money.

A petition from residents of Pine street to have a water main laid was referred to the sewer committee. The petition was not correct as to form and City Attorney Fleming will make the proper alterations.

On motion it was decided to change the rate of enclosed arc lights in front of stores and saloons from $3 to $5 per month.

Say boys! look over our new Joint. If you don't like it tell us how it should be done.

AN AUTUMN WEDDING

WAS A VERY SWELL AFFAIR

There was a very pretty autumn wedding last evening at the home of Mr. T. M. Reilly, of East Brainerd when his daughter, Miss Dell Reilly, was given away in marriage to Mr. J. A. Batchelder.

The affair was one of the prettiest home weddings that has ever been seen in Brainerd, every appointment being especially well arranged and appropriate to the season—autumn. There were about fifty guests present, most of these being relatives of the contracting parties and intimate friends.

The ceremony was performed in the back parlor at 8:30 o'clock. At this hour the organ pealed forth the beautiful strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, Mrs. J. P. Early presiding at the organ, and the ribbon girls marched through the parlors and formed the aisle for the wedding party. The ribbon girls were the Misses Rose Poppenberg, Rose Lillig and Kitty and Helen Reilly. The first to appear in the line was Miss Agnes McCarthy, the bridesmaid. She wore a gown of white net over green silk and carried a bouquet of pink flowers.

Miss McCarthy was followed by Miss Mayme Reilly, sister of the bride, who acted as maid of honor. She was dressed in a gown of flowered net over pink silk and carried pink roses.

The bride then followed leaning on the arm of her father, Mr. T. M. Reilly and they marched slowly to a point underneath the chandelier in the back parlor. Here they were met by Rev. Father D. W. Lynch and the groom and the ceremony was performed. The bride was attired in a gown made of white crepe de chene over white taffeta, trimmed with point lace. She carried a beautiful kerchief and a bouquet of bridal roses.

The color scheme, and in fact, the entire decoration carried out the idea perfectly of an autumn wedding. The parlors were artistically decorated with autumn leaves, golden glows, palms, ferns and golden rod. There was a bank of these products in the corner of the back parlor which served as a background during the ceremony and the effect was very beautiful.

The same idea was carried out in the dining room, except that everything was red, mountain ash berries being the predominant decoration. The table was nicely arranged, the center piece consisting of a large chandelabrum surmounted with tapers of reddish hue. The house decorations were very pretty and the effect was especially seasonable.

The bride is a very popular young lady in this city and she has hosts of friends who extend happy greetings. The groom too has been blessed with the close acquaintance of a large number of people in the city and he is extremely popular.

Mr. and Mrs. Batchelder left on the midnight train for eastern points and expect to be gone on their wedding tour about two weeks. The bride's going away gown was brown with brown hat to match and she looked charming.

The couple were the recipients of many very valuable and beautiful

Other weddings of interest to Brainerd and Crow Wing county people are reported as follows by the St. Cloud Journal-Press:

HESSEL-STAPLES.

"At 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Staples, was solemnized the marriage of John C. Hessel, Jr., of Brainerd, and Miss Martha C. E. Staples, of this city, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. E. V. Campbell, and witnessed by a large company of guests, including many from Brainerd and elsewhere out of the city. The bridal party stood during the service under a bower of asters and foliage, and the home was tastefully decorated for the occasion. After the ceremony refreshments were served and a season of sociability followed, the bride and bridegroom being later escorted to the train by a large company of friends, who gave them a very merry 'send-off,' the prominent features of which were showers of rice and good wishes in equal proportions."

MILLS-ORTON.

"The marriage of O. O. Mills, of Osage, Crow Wing county, and Miss Ada Orton, of this city, took place at the home of the bride's parents on the east side at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening. The ceremony was read by the Rev. E. V. Campbell, in the presence of a company of guests composed mainly of relatives of the families. The rooms were beautifully decorated with wild flowers and greenery, and after the ceremony the guests sat down to a wedding supper composed of a profusion of good things.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills will make their home at Ossipee and the congratulations of many friends will be with them."

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"A FRIEND OF THE FAMILY."

"A Friend of the Family," one of the very cleverest farces ever written, will be the next offering at the Brainerd Opera house. The performance will be given here on next Tuesday evening, September 13. The fact that the performance was given here only last winter is sure to help swell the crowd that will see it here on its second visit. Not knowing how good a performance it was Brainerd people did not turn out very promiscuously last winter, but those who did go were highly gratified and anyone who is now in doubt as to the merit of the production has but to ask his or her neighbor.

The gowns worn by Miss Thias Magranne and the other members of the gentler sex during the three laugh provoking acts of this play are said to be revelations of the dress maker's art and to be the admiration and envy of every lady present. Undoubtedly that is the reason that this play has been so enthusiastically received by a majority of the ladies in every city, especially as the comedy although execrably funny, is free from any suggestion of buffoonery or vulgarity. As a large advance sale is looked for, those wishing desirable seats would do well to have them marked off early.

SEEING THE FAIR IN DETAIL

Within a Palace of Wonders—Farming by Rule of Thumb Is Out of Date—A Difference to Be Noted in the Agriculture Building—Doing Things in a Grand Way on the Other Side of the Equator—Largest Dairy in the World and How It Is Run—The Argentine a Strong Competitor in the Export Trade—Raising the Standard and Profit of Products—Sugar Manufacture—The People at Business and Pleasure—Educating Her Young Men Abroad.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE BY MARK BENNETT.)

One needs only to set foot within the Palace of Agriculture to discover that he is within a palace of wonders. What was once the drudgery of the world is here an inspiring science. The spirit of high intelligence is diffused through the whole. You feel its influence at every step. This is the apotheosis of the farm, the ranch, the plantation, the hacienda.

Old St. Cornstossel and Wayback Jimkins are out of it. Haphazard farming that raises nubbins and scrubs of all kinds is dished and done for. It is off the map so far as representation here is concerned. Book farming that was hooted at thirty years ago is the only farming that pays in 1904. The farmer who disregards scientific results and is not within touch of the experimental stations is in almost as sad a plight as the one who spends three Saturdays a week in town "buyin' terbacker" and hasn't time to get his crops in or out.

But in this glorious Palace of Agriculture we find that one of the most impressive lessons in doing things in a scientific and magnificent way comes from the other side of the equator and from a country whose population is but one-sixteenth of our own.

I halted in the exhibit from the Argentine Republic. "Show me your most interesting exhibit," said I.

"These figures, senior," said the superintendent, "which show the wonderful growth of my country. Here are the specimens of our products, and here are the figures that show how swiftly the industries which they represent have developed."

He who runs may read, and he who rolls by in a roller chair may regret that he did not stop, as did I, for he who sits at one of the little round tables to talk a bit about the Argentine will have a charming rest and be refreshed with facts that carry with them no weariness if his interest be alive to what the big world is busy about these days.

The exhibit of the Canuelas ranch is the lesson that found a responsive chord in me, bringing back the days of the old mulley cow that was once my especial care and the memory of whose friendship has never lost its sweetness. "How many acres in the Canuelas ranch?" I asked, with practical frankness.

"Oh, senior, so many it takes two hours by train to ride from one side to the other. That is how large."

"Here, here! See the book."

A splendid volume of descriptions and illustrations was brought forth.

The Canuelas ranch is a paradise both for man and beast and, I might say, particularly for babies. It is particularly a milk ranch and has upon its wide fields over 10,000 cattle. Three thousand of these are milk cows, so that upon this ranch daily 6,000 milkings take place.

Let us look hastily through the establishment. Here is the buttermaking department, equipped with every modern labor saving and scientific device necessary for perfect results in butter manufacture. This butter goes to Europe packed in sealed cans. Here are some of the tins, right out of the picture-canned sunshine from Argentina meadows. Here is the pasteurizing department, with elaborate equipment, and here are bottles of pure milk for babies, the essence of grass blades from an Argentine landscape. Here is the condensed milk manufactory. Here are the cooling rooms, the engine rooms, the washing rooms for cans and bottles, pails and tools, for everything must be done by sanitary rules.

This greatest of the world's dairies is close to the great city of Buenos Ayres, and in that city is the principal market. Forty places in that city of a million souls are built with white tile interiors, and here milk is sold by the glass, quart or greater measure. Here the butter and cheese are retailed, and through these shops the people are in direct touch with a responsible and intelligent directorship.

In the enormous dairy of the Argentine the business looks like a dress parade of rural folk. At milking time every man or maid must wear fresh white clothes that are worn for no other purpose, with close white caps over the hair. The milk and other products go to Buenos Ayres in the dairy's own refrigerator cars. It has its own general depot, its own line of wagons for distributing the product. Every citizen of Buenos Ayres has milk within telephone call, and the sign "San Martin En Canuelas" means a luxury to the citizen such as few cities of the world can offer.

If our exports of butter have fallen off, it may be that there is a reason, for certainly we have a competitor in Argentina. In 1895 that republic exported 1,000,000 pounds of butter. In 1903 it exported 11,700,000 pounds. The Argentine has 120,000,000 sheep as compared with 46,000,000 in the United States. She has 30,000,000 cattle against 46,000,000 in the United States. Last year she had 3,100,000 acres of alfalfa as compared with 2,005,000 in the United States. The Argentine has increased its exports of corn from 680,000 bushels in 1883 to 92,000,000 in 1903. Her exports of wine in 1884 were 9,000,000 gallons; in 1903, 41,000,000 gallons. In wheat exportation the Argentine jumped from 4,000,000 bushels in 1883 to 60,000,000 in 1893 and 105,000,000 in 1903. In wheat production she raised herself from eighth place in 1883 to fourth place in 1903, the order now being Europe, United States, India, Argentina.

As a trading nation Argentina supplies other interesting figures. In 1893 her foreign trade was $140,000,000. In 1903 it was $352,000,000. Moreover, she has raised the standard and thereby the profit of her products. For example, the average fleece of an Argentine sheep in 1870 weighed one and a half pounds. In 1903 the average fleece weighed five and one-third pounds. The average amount of dressed beef from a steer in 1870 was 350 pounds. In 1903 it was 550 pounds. So much for scientific development from the scrub to the beef breed. So much for "book farmin'."

In the little state of Tucuman, the Rhode Island of the Argentine Republic, is a great community of sugar makers. Here is a population of 60,000 people, nearly all engaged in, and certainly all thriving upon, the manufacture of cane sugar. It is in the far north of the republic, where sugar cane grows well, and here we may see in the beautiful exhibit of the enterprising republic all the forms of sugar—another transplanting of fixed sunshine from a far southern clime. Sugar manufacture in Tucuman is controlled by English capital, and English operatives are there helping in the transmutation of sunshine into gold.

Argentines are fond of chocolate, and the chocolate bean is one of the staple crops. The display of Argentina skins and furs is a part of the exhibit in the Palace of Agriculture. Among the choice things are a guanaco blanket and an ostrich robe made by Patagonian Indians.

Photographs portray the Argentine people at their industries and their pleasures. All the products that we see about us bespeak refinement and culture. The evidences of enterprise and a far seeing keenness in commerce and industry are as indelibly stamped upon each article displayed as though they were a part of each label or trademark. At the races, the chief public pastime, we may see a crowd as finely dressed and enjoying as fine equipages and other luxuries as may be found in any part of the world.

That she may profit by the progress of all other nations, the government of Argentina sends her young men to other countries to learn the language and ways of other people and to keep in touch with all lines of advancement. The young man who politely pointed out to me the progress of Argentina, Senor Ernest Sola, is one of fifty now in the United States. The government gives to each $80 a month for education and maintenance. Senor Sola has just graduated from the Ohio State university at Columbus. He is here to assist Senor Enrique M. Nelson, the commissioner for the republic at the fair.

DOWIE'S COURTING RULES.

Zion City Girls Under Eighteen Forbidden to Speak to Men in Public.

Dr. John Alexander Dowie has set himself up as the arbitrary judge in every courtship in Zion City, says a Chicago special dispatch. In a recent sermon to his full flock he laid it down as an unquestionable law that no love-making shall take place without his controlling hand, either directly or indirectly, and there are rumors of a growing spirit of rebellion among the Zion City maid.

Only a few weeks ago Dowie decreed that any young man calling on a girl in Zion City must while away every minute of the visit in the presence of her parents, and now he has forbidden any girl under eighteen years old to speak to a man in public.

Dowie said emphatically that no girl could speak to a man in the streets of Zion City until she had reached her eighteenth birthday, and, more than this, he imposed a restriction on unmarried women of all ages which seems likely to cause a revolt among the followers of "Elijah." His amendment to the under eighteen rule is that no woman, irrespective of age, shall speak to a man in public until she first has gained the consent of her parents, which must be subject to his own approval. This last clause is what has aroused the ire of the young women of Zion City, as they are unanimous in objecting to any one forcing himself upon them as a guide to lead them through the realm of romance. It is said that these restrictions on love making promise to raise the most difficult problem with which Dowie has been confronted since he gathered his followers around him in Zion City.

Society Foibles.

Formal verbal announcements of engagements at luncheons given for that purpose are no longer in style, says the Chicago Chronicle. One hostess recently concealed the announcement of her daughter's engagement in a small cluster of flowers put at each guest's place at the table. A few days ago another happy mother did the trick even more delicately. The guests waited expectantly all through the luncheon, but not until they had finished the sherbet were they apprised of the engagement. Then in small gold letters on the bottoms of the glasses in which the sherbet was served they saw the names of the bride and bridegroom to be linked together by the loops of a true lovers' knot.

CZAR'S ALLEGED MOVE

Details of Arbitration Scheme
Told by James H. Lewis.

HOW IT WAS OUTLINED IN PARIS

Russia, It Is Said, Seeks to Have France Urge the United States to Act as War Mediator—International Aspect of the Big Struggle in Manchuria.

Russia has become exceedingly alarmed at her present internal condition, says James Hamilton Lewis, the special correspondent of the Chicago Post at Paris. She sees no immediate success in the Japanese conflict. She feels that her war chest will be exhausted before victory can be achieved. Then some form of severe personal tax upon her people must follow in order that her local government in Europe and Siberia may be supported.

This latter necessity will be the wound which will bring forth screams of mutiny and cries of revolt. Then will be the apt moment for the revolutionists to urge their doctrines. They will demand the uprising of the people. Their cry will be that as it is death without liberty longer to endure the iron rule of Russia it will be better to have liberty and death with a prospect of liberty to the children.

The nihilists will join the revolutionists and aid them. Such alliance has already been formed. Alexplebrokoff, one of the chief nihilists, fully detailed the plan of the alliance to the state's general (attorney general) of Switzerland a few nights ago at a meeting in Geneva. Russia fears the necessity of internal warfare which this condition necessitates. Therefore it is argued that it is better to lose temporarily some advantage in Japan than all advantage at home.

It has therefore been esteemed statesmanlike prudence on the part of Russia to have some country intervene and "arbitrate" the questions existing between Russia and Japan, as Russia had done between Japan and China and as England did between Turkey and Greece.

The Russian governmental heads admitted that it would never do for Russia to appear to have initiated this move. Such would be construed as a confession of weakness, or, possibly, defeat. The dismal reports of Kuropatkin's situation, growing darker, as they are, would add deeper color to this conclusion. So, in pursuit of wise oriental diplomacy, Russia would have the United States suggest the necessity of cessation of hostilities because of such damage to shipping as has followed the seizures of the ship Knight Commander and the German ships sent from Hamburg. The United States could then demand of England its co-operation. This influence upon Japan would be sufficient for her to yield.

To effect this circular course the Russian minister to France was recalled to Paris from Biarritz-on-the-Sea, where he had gone for a holiday, and he, at the instance of a private message borne in hand by a Russian nobleman sent by the czar, called upon M. Delcasse, the minister of French foreign affairs and the wisest statesman France has had since 1870, and within the confidence of the new Franco-Russian alliance the plan to have France influence the United States to make the proposal of intervention was revealed.

The scheme is shrewd, but in nowise dishonorable upon the part of Russia. She advises France that as soon as the United States shall demand intervention and the naming of arbitrators France shall ask that Switzerland and Italy represent Russia, each country to name its board of three. Japan, of course, it is assumed, would select England, and Russia would pick Germany. They would ask that the United States name the final one man as presiding and controlling officer of the arbitration. In such suggestion Russia manifests her confidence in the United States and obtains a favorable attitude toward her by the United States.

It is, however, to the underground machinery of this movement to which our interest must be directed—what old Horace termed the procrustean operandus. Russia knows the great effect of religious prejudices and reckons with it, as well do all the wise. She, too, reckons with the effect of national prejudices. To avoid the entrance of certain of these influences into the board of arbitrators she has quietly arranged for France to designate to Switzerland that she name a Swiss of French blood and Catholic religion. Russia fears the German-Swiss named from Bern and the Lutheran influences upon such.

She prefers that the man from the United States be not a Catholic, but by all means that he be one who was for the Union in the civil war of the sixties. She remembers that the south bitterly resented Russia's refusal to recognize the independence of the Confederacy as well as the giving of aid by her to the Union with the presence of battleships at New York harbor.

The propositions of intervention have been taken to the United States. They will be quietly "felt out." Count Cassini will not be entrusted with them, not for want of confidence in him, but to avoid knowledge that any such move is on the board, which his appearance would indicate.

Geneva has signified its willingness to serve. The present acting chief justice of Switzerland will be doubtless chosen as the chairman of the Swiss three. Italy will accept and to propitiate the quarrel between the pope and France will permit the adjutant of the pope to designate a churchman, France in behalf of Russia acceding to this.

HIGH WAVES AND NO WIND.

Strange Phenomenon Occurs on Coast of California.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 8.—From many points along the Southern coast come reports of damage by great billows, which are rolling in from the sea by some phenomenon, possibly volcanic disturbances far out in the ocean. While there is scarcely a cap full of wind, enormous waves, in some instances forty feet high, roll ceaselessly against the shores. Word came Wednesday that the wharf at Hueneme is doomed to destruction. At Terminal island the sea wrought considerable havoc and hundreds of men are at work piling up sacks of sand to form breakwaters. Several cottages are inundated. At long Beach and at Ocean Park pleasure wharfs have been much damaged and no one is permitted to go on them. The heavy seas have been running for several days, but Wednesday they were higher than before, and more damage may be done.

HEAVY LOSS BY FIRE.

Valuable Property Destroyed and Two Lives Lost.

Bakersfield, Cal., Sept. 8.—Fire broke out in the enginehouse of the local fire department Wednesday and destroyed two business blocks. Ah Fong was suffocated. Loss, $250,000.

William Saver, a brickmason, entered the enginehouse and lay down to sleep. It is supposed that he was smoking and started the fire from his cigar. His charred remains were recovered after the fire.

Edward Baldwin jumped from the second story of the Midland hotel. He will probably die.

PRIEST ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

Tries to End His Life by Jumping From a Trestle.

Winona, Minn., Sept. 8.—Rev. Father Matursky, pastor of the Catholic church at North Creek, Wis., walked upon a trestle at Weaver, this state, in front of a work train. The engineer slowed down to avoid hitting him. The priest then leaped from the trestle into stagnant water fifteen feet below, but was rescued by the train men. He will be examined for his sanity.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Charles W. Fairbanks, Republican candidate for vice president, spoke at Camden, Me., Wednesday night.

It has been decided that until the close of the St. Louis world's fair school children will be admitted for 10 cents.

Democrats of Connecticut in convention at New Haven, nominated a full ticket headed by A. H. Robertson for governor.

George H. Shibley, who was nominated by the Continental party at Chicago as candidate for vice president, has declined the nomination.

Major Dehmar only succeeded in tying the world's trotting record of 2:02 1/2 without a wind shield Wednesday at the New York state fair at Syracuse.

The visit of Henry G. Davis, Democratic vice presidential nominee, to the West Virginia state fair at Wheeling, Wednesday, was the occasion of the largest Wednesday attendance in the history of the fair.

SEEING THE FAIR IN DETAIL

Within a Palace of Wonders—Farming by Rule of Thumb Is Out of Date—A Difference to Be Noted in the Agriculture Building—Doing Things in a Grand Way on the Other Side of the Equator—Largest Dairy in the World and How It Is Run—The Argentine a Strong Competitor in the Export Trade—Raising the Standard and Profit of Products—Sugar Manufacture—The People at Business and Pleasure—Educating Her Young Men Abroad.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE BY MARK BENNETT.]

One needs only to set foot within the Palace of Agriculture to discover that he is within a palace of wonders. What was once the drudgery of the world is here an inspiring science. The spirit of high intelligence is diffused through the whole. You feel its influence at every step. This is the apotheosis of the farm, the ranch, the plantation, the hacienda.

Old Si Cortossel and Wayback Jimkins are out of it. Haphazard farming that raises rubbings and scrubs of all kinds is dished and done for. It is off the map so far as representation here is concerned. Book farming that was hooted at thirty years ago is the only farming that pays in 1904. The farmer who disregards scientific results and is not within touch of the experimental stations is in almost as sad a plight as the one who spends three Saturdays a week in town "buyin' terbacker" and hasn't time to get his crops in or out.

But in this glorious Palace of Agriculture we find that one of the most impressive lessons in doing things in a scientific and magnificent way comes from the other side of the equator and from a country whose population is but one-sixteenth of our own.

I halted in the exhibit from the Argentine Republic. "Show me your most interesting exhibit," said I.

"These figures, señor," said the superintendent, "which show the wonderful growth of my country. Here are the specimens of our products, and here are the figures that show how swiftly the industries which they represent have developed."

He who runs may read, and he who rolls by in a roller chair may regret that he did not stop, as did I, for he who sits at one of the little round tables to talk a bit about the Argentine will have a charming rest and be refreshed with facts that carry with them no weariness if his interest be alive to what the big world is busy about these days.

The exhibit of the Canuelas ranch is the lesson that found a responsive chord in me, bringing back the days of the old mulley cow that was once my especial care and the memory of whose friendship has never lost its sweetness.

"How many acres in the Canuelas ranch?" I asked, with practical frankness.

"Oh, señor, so many it takes two hours by train to ride from one side to the other. That is how large."

"Here, here! See the book."

A splendid volume of descriptions and illustrations was brought forth.

The Canuelas ranch is a paradise both for man and beast and, I might say, particularly for babies. It is particularly a milk ranch and has upon its wide fields over 10,000 cattle. Three thousand of these are milk cows, so that upon this ranch daily 6,000 milkings take place.

Let us look hastily through the establishment. Here is the buttermaking department, equipped with every modern labor saving and scientific device necessary for perfect results in butter manufacture. This butter goes to Europe packed in sealed cans. Here are some of the tins, right out of the picture—canned sunshine from Argentina meadows. Here is the pasteurizing department, with bottles of pure milk for babies, the essence of grass blades from an Argentine landscape. Here is the condensed milk manufactory. Here are the cooling rooms, the engine rooms, the washing rooms for cans and bottles, pails and tools, for everything must be done by sanitary rules.

This greatest of the world's dairies is close to the great city of Buenos Ayres, and in that city is the principal market. Forty places in that city of a million souls are built with white tile interiors, and here milk is sold by the glass, quart or greater measure. Here the butter and cheese are retailed, and through these shops the people are in direct touch with a responsible and intelligent directorship.

In the enormous dairy of the Argentine the business looks like a dress parade of rural folk. At milking time every man or maid must wear fresh white clothes that are worn for no other purpose, with close white caps over the hair. The milk and other products go to Buenos Ayres in the dairy's own refrigerator cars. It has its own general depot, its own line of wagons for distributing the product. Every citizen of Buenos Ayres has milk within telephone call, and the sign "San Martín En Canuelas" means a luxury to the citizen such as few cities of the world can offer.

If our exports of butter have fallen off, it may be that there is a reason, for certainly we have a competitor in Argentina. In 1895 that republic exported 1,000,000 pounds of butter. In 1903 it exported 11,700,000 pounds. The Argentine has 120,000,000 sheep as compared with 46,000,000 in the United States. She has 30,000,000 cattle against 46,000,000 in the United States. Last year she had 3,100,000 acres of alfalfa as compared with 2,005,000 in the United States. The Argentine has increased its exports of corn from 680,000 bushels in 1883 to 92,000,000 in 1903. Her exports of wine in 1894 were 9,000,000 gallons; in 1903, 41,000,000 gallons. In wheat exportation the Argentine jumped from 4,000,000 bushels in 1883 to 60,000,000 in 1893 and 105,000,000 in 1903. In wheat production she raised herself from eighth place in 1883 to fourth place in 1903, the order now being Europe, United States, India, Argentina.

As a trading nation Argentina supplies other interesting figures. In 1893 her foreign trade was $150,000,000. In 1903 it was $352,000,000. Moreover, she has raised the standard and thereby the profit of her products. For example, the average fleece of an Argentine sheep in 1870 weighed one and a half pounds. In 1903 the average fleece weighed five and one-third pounds. The average amount of dressed beef from a steer in 1870 was 350 pounds. In 1903 it was 550 pounds. So much for scientific development from the scrub to the beef breed. So much for "book farming."

In the little state of Tucuman, the Rhode Island of the Argentine Republic, is a great community of sugar makers. Here is a population of 60,000 people, nearly all engaged in, and certainly all thriving upon, the manufacture of cane sugar. It is in the far north of the republic, where sugar cane grows well, and here we may see in the beautiful exhibit of the enterprising republic all the forms of sugar—another transplanting of fixed sunshine from a far southern clime. Sugar manufacture in Tucuman is controlled by English capital, and English operatives are there helping in the transmutation of sunshine into gold.

Argentines are fond of chocolate, and the chocolate bean is one of the staple crops. The display of Argentine skins and furs is a part of the exhibit in the Palace of Agriculture. Among the choice things are a guanaco blanket and an ostrich robe made by Patagonian Indians.

Photographs portray the Argentine people at their industries and their pleasures. All the products that we see about us bespeak refinement and culture. The evidences of enterprise and a far seeing keenness in commerce and industry are as indelibly stamped upon each article displayed as though they were a part of each label or trademark. A few days ago another happy mother did the trick even more delicately. The guests waited expectantly all through the luncheon, but not until they had finished the sherbet were they apprised of the engagement. Then in small gold letters on the bottoms of the glasses in which the sherbet was served they saw the names of the bride and bridegroom to be linked together by the loops of a true lovers' knot.

CZAR'S ALLEGED MOVE

HOW IT WAS OUTLINED IN PARIS

Russia, It Is Said, Seeks to Have France Urge the United States to Act as War Mediator—International Aspect of the Big Struggle in Manchuria.

Russia has become exceedingly alarmed at her present internal condition, says James Hamilton Lewis, the special correspondent of the Chicago Post at Paris. She sees no immediate success in the Japanese conflict. She feels that her war chest will be exhausted before victory can be achieved. Then some form of severe personal tax upon her people must follow in order that her local government in Europe and Siberia may be supported.

This latter necessity will be the wound which will bring forth screams of mutiny and cries of revolt. Then will be the apt moment for the revolutionists to urge their doctrines. They will demand the uprising of the people. Their cry will be that as it is 'death without liberty longer to endure the iron rule of Russia it will be better to have liberty and death with a prospect of liberty to the children.

The nihilists will join the revolutionists and aid them. Such alliance has already been formed. Alexiebrokoff, one of the chief nihilists, fully detailed the plan of the alliance to the state's general (attorney general) of Switzerland a few nights ago at a meeting in Geneva. Russia fears the necessity of internal warfare which this condition necessitates. Therefore it is argued that it is better to lose temporarily some advantage in Japan than all advantage at home.

It has therefore been esteemed statesmanlike prudence on the part of Russia to have some country intervene and "arbitrate" the questions existing between Russia and Japan, as Russia had done between Japan and China and as England did between Turkey and Greece.

The Russian governmental heads admitted that it would never do for Russia to appear to have initiated this move. Such would be construed as a confession of weakness, or, possibly, defeat. The dismal reports of Kuropatkin's situation, growing darker, as they are, would add deeper color to this conclusion. So, in pursuit of wise oriental diplomacy, Russia would have the United States suggest the necessity of cessation of hostilities because of such damage to shipping as has followed the seizures of the ship Knight Commander and the German ships sent from Hamburg. The United States could then demand of England its co-operation. This influence upon Japan would be sufficient for her to yield.

To effect this circular course the Russian minister to France was recalled to Paris from Biarritz-on-the-Sea, where he had gone for a holiday, and he, at the instance of a private message borne in hand by a Russian nobleman sent by the czar, called upon M. Delcasse, the minister of French foreign affairs and the wisest statesman France has had since 1870, and within the confidence of the new Franco-Russian alliance the plan to have France influence the United States to make the proposal of intervention was revealed.

The scheme is shrewd, but in nowise dishonorable upon the part of Russia. She advises France that as soon as the United States shall demand intervention and the naming of arbitrators France shall ask that Switzerland and Italy represent Russia, each country to name its board of three. Japan, of course, it is assumed, would select England, and Russia would pick Germany. They would ask that the United States name the final one man as presiding and controlling officer of the arbitration. In such suggestion Russia manifests her confidence in the United States and obtains a favorable attitude toward her by the United States.

It is, however, to the underground machinery of this movement to which our interest must be directed—what old Horace termed the procrustean operand. Russia knows the great effect of religious prejudices and reckons with it, as well do all the wise. She, too, reckons with the effect of national prejudices. To avoid the entrance of certain of these influences into the board of arbitrators she has quietly arranged for France to designate to Switzerland that she name a Swiss of French blood and Catholic religion. Russia fears the German-Swiss named from Bern and the Lutheran influences upon such.

She prefers that the man from the United States be not a Catholic, but by all means that he be one who was for the Union in the civil war of the sixties. She remembers that the south bitterly resented Russia's refusal to recognize the independence of the Confederacy as well as the giving of aid by her to the Union with the presence of battleships at New York harbor.

The propositions of intervention have been taken to the United States. They will be quietly "felt out." Count Cassini will not be intrusted with them, not for want of confidence in him, but to avoid knowledge that any such move is on the board, which his appearance would indicate.

Geneva has signified its willingness to serve. The present acting chief justice of Switzerland will be doubtless chosen as the chairman of the Swiss three. Italy will accept and to propitiate the quarrel between the pope and France will permit the adjutant of the pope to designate a churchman, France to behalf of Russia acceding to this.

HIGH WAVES AND NO WIND.

Strange Phenomenon Occurs on Coast of California.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 8.—From many points along the Southern coast come reports of damage by great billows, which are rolling in from the sea by some phenomenon, possibly volcanic disturbances far out in the ocean. While there is scarcely a cap full of wind, enormous waves, in some instances forty feet high, roll ceaselessly against the shores. Word came Wednesday that the wharf at Hueneme is doomed to destruction. At Terminal island the sea wrought considerable havoc and hundreds of men are at work piling up sacks of sand to form breakwaters. Several cottages are inundated. At Long Beach and at Ocean Park pleasure wharfs have been much damaged and no one is permitted to go on them. The heavy seas have been running for several days, but Wednesday they were higher than before, and more damage may be done.

HEAVY LOSS BY FIRE.

Valuable Property Destroyed and Two Lives Lost.

Bakersfield, Cal., Sept. 8.—Fire broke out in the enginehouse of the local fire department Wednesday and destroyed two business blocks. Ah Fong was suffocated. Loss, $250,000.

William Saver, a brickmason, entered the enginehouse and lay down to sleep. It is supposed that he was smoking and started the fire from his cigar. His charred remains were recovered after the fire.

Edward Baldwin jumped from the second story of the Midland hotel. He will probably die.

PRIEST ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

Tries to End His Life by Jumping From a Trestle.

Winona, Minn., Sept. 8.—Rev. Father Matzursky, pastor of the Catholic church at North Creek, Wis., walked upon a trestle at Weaver, this state, in front of a work train. The engineer slowed down to avoid hitting him. The priest then leaped from the trestle into stagnant water fifteen feet below, but was rescued by the train men. He will be examined for his sanity.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Charles W. Fairbanks, Republican candidate for vice president, spoke at Camden, Me., Wednesday night.

It has been decided that until the close of the St. Louis world's fair school children will be admitted for 10 cents.

Democrats of Connecticut in convention at New Haven, nominated a full ticket headed by A. H. Robertson for governor.

George H. Shibley, who was nominated by the Continental party at Chicago as candidate for vice president, has declined the nomination.

Major Delmar only succeeded in tying the world's trotting record of 2:02 1/4 without a wind shield Wednesday at the New York state fair at Syracuse.

The visit of Henry G. Davis, Democratic vice presidential nominee, to the West Virginia state fair at Wheeling, Wednesday, was the occasion of the largest Wednesday attendance in the history of the fair.

SEEING THE FAIR IN DETAIL

Within a Palace of Wonders—Farming by Rule of Thumb Is Out of Date—A Difference to Be Noted in the Agriculture Building—Doing Things in a Grand Way on the Other Side of the Equator—Largest Dairy in the World and How It Is Run—The Argentine a Strong Competitor in the Export Trade—Raising the Standard and Profit of Products—Sugar Manufacture—The People at Business and Pleasure—Educating Her Young Men Abroad.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE BY MARK BENNETT.)

One needs only to set foot within the Palace of Agriculture to discover that he is within a palace of wonders. What was once the drudgery of the world is here an inspiring science. The spirit of high intelligence is diffused through the whole. You feel its influence at every step. This is the apotheosis of the farm, the ranch, the plantation, the hacienda.

Old Si Cornstossel and Wayback Jimkins are out of it. Haphazard farming that raises rubbings and scrubs of all kinds is dished and done for. It is off the map so far as representation here is concerned. Book farming that was hooted at thirty years ago is the only farming that pays in 1904. The farmer who disregards scientific results and is not within touch of the experimental stations is in almost as sad a plight as the one who spends three Saturdays a week in town "buyin' terbacker" and hasn't time to get his crops in or out.

But in this glorious Palace of Agriculture we find that one of the most impressive lessons in doing things in a scientific and magnificent way comes from the other side of the equator and from a country whose population is but one-sixteenth of our own.

I halted in the exhibit from the Argentine Republic. "Show me your most interesting exhibit," said I.

"These figures, senior," said the superintendent, "which show the wonderful growth of my country. Here are the specimens of our products, and here are the figures that show how swiftly the industries which they represent have developed."

He who runs may read, and he who rolls by in a roller chair may regret that he did not stop, as did I, for he who sits at one of the little round tables to talk a bit about the Argentine will have a charming rest and be refreshed with facts that carry with them no weariness if his interest be alive to what the big world is busy about these days.

The exhibit of the Canuelas ranch is the lesson that found a responsive chord in me, bringing back the days of the old mulley cow that was once my especial care and the memory of whose friendship has never lost its sweetness.

"How many acres in the Canuelas ranch?" I asked, with practical frankness.

"Oh, senior, so many it takes two hours by train to ride from one side to the other. That is how large."

"Here, here! See the book."

A splendid volume of descriptions and illustrations was brought forth.

The Canuelas ranch is a paradise both for man and beast and, I might say, particularly for babies. It is particularly a milk ranch and has upon its wide fields over 10,000 cattle. Three thousand of these are milk cows, so that upon this ranch daily 6,000 milkings take place.

Let us look hastily through the establishment. Here is the butter-making department, equipped with every modern labor saving and scientific device necessary for perfect results in butter manufacture. This butter goes to Europe packed in sealed cans. Here are some of the tins, right out of the picture-canned sunshine from Argentina meadows. Here is the pasteurizing department, with elaborate equipment, and here are bottles of pure milk for babies, the essence of grass blades from an Argentine landscape. Here is the condensed milk manufactory. Here are the cooling rooms, the engine rooms, the washing rooms for cans and bottles, pails and tools, for everything must be done by sanitary rules.

This greatest of the world's dairies is close to the great city of Buenos Ayres, and in that city is the principal market. Forty places in that city of a million souls are built with white tile interiors, and here milk is sold by the glass, quart or greater measure. Here the butter and cheese are retailed, and through these shops the people are in direct touch with a responsible and intelligent directorship.

In the enormous dairy of the Argentine the business looks like a dress parade of rural folk. At milking time every man or maid must wear fresh white clothes that are worn for no other purpose, with close white caps over the hair. The milk and other products go to Buenos Ayres in the dairy's own refrigerator cars. It has its own general depot, its own line of wagons for distributing the product. Every citizen of Buenos Ayres has milk within telephone call, and the sign "San Martin En Canuelas" means a luxury to the citizen such as few cities of the world can offer.

If our exports of butter have fallen off, it may be that here is a reason, for certainly we have a competitor in Argentina. In 1893 that republic exported 1,000,000 pounds of butter. In 1903 it exported 11,700,000 pounds. The Argentine has 120,000,000 sheep as compared with 46,000,000 in the United States. She has 30,000,000 cattle against 46,000,000 in the United States. Last year she had 3,100,000 acres of alfalfa as compared with 2,005,000 in the United States. The Argentine has increased its exports of corn from 689,000 bushels in 1883 to 92,000,000 in 1903. Her exports of wine in 1894 were 9,000,000 gallons; in 1903, 41,000,000 gallons. In wheat exportation the Argentine jumped from 4,600,000 bushels in 1883 to 60,000,000 in 1893 and 105,000,000 in 1903. In wheat production she raised herself from eighth place in 1883 to fourth place in 1903, the order now being Europe, United States, India, Argentina.

As a trading nation Argentina supplies other interesting figures. In 1893 her foreign trade was $130,000,000. In 1903 it was $552,000,000. Moreover, she has raised the standard and thereby the profit of her products. For example, the average fleece of an Argentine sheep in 1870 weighed one and a half pounds. In 1903 the average fleece weighed five and one-third pounds. The average amount of dressed beef from a steer in 1870 was 350 pounds. In 1903 it was 550 pounds. So much for scientific development from the scrub to the beef breed. So much for "book farming."

In the little state of Tucuman, the Rhode Island of the Argentine Republic, is a great community of sugar makers. Here is a population of 60,000 people, nearly all engaged in, and certainly all thriving upon, the manufacture of cane sugar. It is in the far north of the republic, where sugar cane grows well, and here we may see in the beautiful exhibit of the enterprising republic all the forms of sugar—another transplanting of fixed sunshine from a far southern clime. Sugar manufacture in Tucuman is controlled by English capital, and English operatives are there helping in the transmutation of sunshine into gold.

Argentines are fond of chocolate, and the chocolate bean is one of the staple crops. The display of Argentina skins and furs is a part of the exhibit in the Palace of Agriculture. Among the choice things are a guanaco blanket and an ostrich robe made by Patagonian Indians.

Photographs portray the Argentine people at their industries and their pleasures. All the products that we see about us bespeak refinement and culture. The evidences of enterprise and a far seeing keenness in commerce and industry are as indelibly stamped upon each article displayed as though they were a part of each label or trademark. At the races, the chief public pastime, we may see a crowd as finely dressed and enjoying as fine equipages and other luxuries as may be found in any part of the world.

That she may profit by the progress of all other nations, the government of Argentina sends her young men to other countries to learn the language and ways of other people and to keep in touch with all lines of advancement. The young man who politely pointed out to me the progress of Argentina, Senor Ernest Sola, is one of fifty now in the United States. The government gives to each $80 a month for education and maintenance. Senor Sola has just graduated from the Ohio State university at Columbus. He is here to assist Senor Enrique M. Nelson, the commissioner for the republic at the fair.

DOWIE'S COURTING RULES.

Zion City Girls Under Eighteen Forbidden to Speak to Men in Public.

Dr. John Alexander Dowie has set himself up as the arbitrary judge in every courtship in Zion City, says a Chicago special dispatch. In a recent sermon to his full flock he laid it down as an unquestionable law that no love-making shall take place without his controlling hand, either directly or indirectly, and there are rumors of a growing spirit of rebellion among the Zion City maid.

Only a few weeks ago Dowie decreed that any young man calling on a girl in Zion City must while away every minute of the visit in the presence of her parents, and now he has forbidden any girl under eighteen years old to speak to a man in public.

Dowie said emphatically that no girl could speak to a man in the streets of Zion City until she had reached her eighteenth birthday, and, more than this, he imposed a restriction on unmarried women of all ages which seems likely to cause a revolt among the followers of "Elijah." His amendment to the under eighteen rule is that no woman, irrespective of age, shall speak to a man in public until she first has gained the consent of her parents, which must be subject to his own approval. This last clause is what has aroused the ire of the young women of Zion City, as they are unanimous in objecting to any one forcing himself upon them as a guide to lead them through the realm of romance. It is said that these restrictions on love making promise to raise the most difficult problem with which Dowie has been confronted since he gathered his followers around him in Zion City.

Society Foibles.

Formal verbal announcements of engagements at luncheons given for that purpose are no longer in style, says the Chicago Chronicle. One hostess recently concealed the announcement of her daughter's engagement in a small cluster of flowers put at each guest's place at the table. A few days ago another happy mother did the trick even more delicately. The guests waited expectantly all through the luncheon, but not until they had finished the sherbet were they apprised of the engagement. Then in small gold letters on the bottoms of the glasses in which the sherbet was served they saw the names of the bride and bridegroom to be linked together by the loops of a true lovers' knot.

CZAR'S ALLEGED MOVE

HOW IT WAS OUTLINED IN PARIS

Russia, It Is Said, Seeks to Have France Urge the United States to Act as War Mediator—International Aspect of the Big Struggle in Manchuria.

Russia has become exceedingly alarmed at her present internal condition, says James Hamilton Lewis, the special correspondent of the Chicago Post at Paris. She sees no immediate success in the Japanese conflict. She feels that her war chest will be exhausted before victory can be achieved. Then some form of severe personal tax upon her people must follow in order that her local government in Europe and Siberia may be supported.

This latter necessity will be the wound which will bring forth screams of mutiny and cries of revolt. Then will be the apt moment for the revolutionists to urge their doctrines. They will demand the uprising of the people. Their cry will be that as it is death without liberty longer to endure the iron rule of Russia it will be better to have liberty and death with a prospect of liberty to the children.

The nihilists will join the revolutionists and aid them. Such alliance has already been formed. Alexipetroff, one of the chief nihilists, fully detailed the plan of the alliance to the state's general (attorney general) of Switzerland a few nights ago at a meeting in Geneva. Russia fears the necessity of internal warfare which this condition necessitates. Therefore it is argued that it is better to lose temporarily some advantage in Japan than all advantage at home.

It has therefore been esteemed statesmanlike prudence on the part of Russia to have some country intervene and "arbitrate" the questions existing between Russia and Japan, as Russia had done between Japan and China and as England did between Turkey and Greece.

The Russian governmental heads admitted that it would never do for Russia to appear to have initiated this move. Such would be construed as a confession of weakness, or, possibly, defeat. The dismal reports of Kuropatkin's situation, growing darker, as they are, would add deeper color to this conclusion. So, in pursuit of wise oriental diplomacy, Russia would have the United States suggest the necessity of cessation of hostilities because of such damage to shipping as has followed the seizures of the ship Knight Commander and the German ships sent from Hamburg. The United States could then demand of England its co-operation. This influence upon Japan would be sufficient for her to yield.

To effect this circular course the Russian minister to France was recalled to Paris from Biarritz-on-the-Sea, where he had gone for a holiday, and he, at the instance of a private message borne in hand by a Russian nobleman sent by the czar, called upon M. Delcasse, the minister of French foreign affairs and the wisest statesman France has had since 1870, and within the confidence of the new Franco-Russian alliance the plan to have France influence the United States to make the proposal of intervention was revealed.

The scheme is shrewd, but in nowise dishonorable upon the part of Russia. She advises France that as soon as the United States shall demand intervention and the naming of arbitrators France shall ask that Switzerland and Italy represent Russia, each country to name its board of three. Japan, of course, it is assumed, would select England, and Russia would pick Germany. They would ask that the United States name the final one man as presiding and controlling officer of the arbitration. In such suggestion Russia manifests her confidence in the United States and obtains a favorable attitude toward her by the United States.

It is, however, to the underground machinery of this movement to which our interest must be directed—what old Horace termed the procrustean operandus. Russia knows the great effect of religious prejudices and reckons with it, as well do all the wise. She, too, reckons with the effect of national prejudices. To avoid the entrance of certain of these influences into the board of arbitrators she has quietly arranged for France to designate to Switzerland that she name a Swiss of French blood and Catholic religion. Russia fears the German-Swiss named from Bern and the Lutheran influences upon such.

She prefers that the man from the United States be not a Catholic, but by all means that he be one who was for the Union in the civil war of the sixties. She remembers that the south bitterly resented Russia's refusal to recognize the independence of the Confederacy as well as the giving of aid by her to the Union with the presence of battleships at New York harbor.

The propositions of intervention have been taken to the United States. They will be quietly "felt out." Count Cassini will not be intrusted with them, not for want of confidence in him, but to avoid knowledge that any such move is on the board, which his appearance would indicate.

Geneva has signified its willingness to serve. The present acting chief justice of Switzerland will be doubtless chosen as the chairman of the Swiss three. Italy will accept and to propitiate the quarrel between the pope and France will permit the adjutant of the pope to designate a churchman, France to behalf of Russia acceding to this.

HIGH WAVES AND NO WIND.

Strange Phenomenon Occurs on Coast of California.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 8.—From many points along the Southern coast come reports of damage by great billows, which are rolling in from the sea by some phenomenon, possibly volcanic disturbances far out in the ocean. While there is scarcely a cap full of wind, enormous waves, in some instances forty feet high, roll ceaselessly against the shores. Word came Wednesday that the wharf at Huene is doomed to destruction. At Terminal island the sea wrought considerable havoc and hundreds of men are at work piling up sacks of sand to form breakwaters. Several cottages are inundated. At long Beach and at Ocean Park pleasure wharfs have been much damaged and no one is permitted to go on them. The heavy seas have been running for several days, but Wednesday they were higher than before, and more damage may be done.

HEAVY LOSS BY FIRE.

Valuable Property Destroyed and Two Lives Lost.

Bakersfield, Cal., Sept. 8.—Fire broke out in the enginehouse of the local fire department Wednesday and destroyed two business blocks. Ah Fong was suffocated. Loss, $250,000.

William Saver, a brickmason, entered the enginehouse and lay down to sleep. It is supposed that he was smoking and started the fire from his cigar. His charred remains were recovered after the fire.

Edward Baldwin jumped from the second story of the Midland hotel. He will probably die.

PRIEST ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

Tries to End His Life by Jumping From a Trestle.

Winona, Minn., Sept. 8.—Rev. Father Matursky, pastor of the Catholic church at North Creek, Wis., walked upon a trestle at Weaver, this state, in front of a work train. The engineer slowed down to avoid hitting him. The priest then leaped from the trestle into stagnant water fifteen feet below, but was rescued by the train men. He will be examined for his sanity.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEVITIES.

Charles W. Fairbanks, Republican candidate for vice president, spoke at Camden, Me., Wednesday night.

It has been decided that until the close of the St. Louis world's fair school children will be admitted for 10 cents.

Democrats of Connecticut in convention at New Haven, nominated a full ticket headed by A. H. Robertson for governor.

George H. Shibley, who was nominated by the Continental party at Chicago as candidate for vice president, has declined the nomination.

The visit of Henry G. Davis, Democratic vice presidential nominee, to the West Virginia state fair at Wheeling, Wednesday, was the occasion of the largest Wednesday attendance in the history of the fair.
